(c. 1747 - 9/17/1820) a letter of Rev. John Hindman, explorer, he states that Maj. Finney was with Clark, Butler & Parsons (Gens) at North Bend, Ham., Co., OH in 1785 seeking to make treaties with the Indians as missionary. His farm was a Grant from Gov. for revolutionary services. Bur at Finney Town, now Finneytown, named for donor of grounds. Location of graves; now within city limits of Cincinnati, Hamilton Co. Name on p 68 "Janes Hist of Cincinnati," published 1879.

Text of the marker:

A company of soldiers from Fort Pitt landed at the mouth of the Great Miami October 22, 1785, and immediately began the building of a fort near this site. It was named Fort Finney in honor of Major Walter Finney, who was in command of the operation.

The Continental Congress had commissioned generals George Rogers Clark, Richard Butler, and Samuel H. Parsons to make a peace treaty with the Shawnee Indians and to mark off lands to be allotted to that tribe.

This site was chosen as being "most convenient to the principle body of savages and nearly equal distance from the rapids (Louisville) and the interior part of Kentucky and Limestone (Maysville)"

Invitations were sent to the reluctant Indians, who finally met by the council house near the fort during the middle of January, 1786. On January 31, 1786 the treaty with the Shawnee Nation was signed, resulting in the immediate removal of hostile Indians from the area.

FISHBACK, PHILIP (Clermont County) [39.0675 -84.1710]

He was born in 1752 in Alsace, France. He came to America with the French soldiers under Lafayette, under whom he fought in the Revolution of 1776. His wife was a German woman ___; children: George, Philip and Jacob. He was a Frenchman but spoke both German and French, though his children were taught in the latter language only. At the close of that patriotic struggle he returned home and married his wife in the adjoining province of Loraine. He again entered the French service under Napoleon with whom he crossed the Alps, and under whom he fought for seven long years, for which he received a medal and an honorable discharge in addition to his meagre monthly stipend. He came to this country in the early part of the century and settled in Pierce township, where his children were born. They were George Fishback, the well known farmer near Olive Branch; Philip, residing at Cherry Grove, Hamilton county, and Jacob, who years ago went to the Pike's Peak country, besides two daughters, one of whom never married but the other married Mr. Gosnecht, whose two children live near Cincinnati. He having died, she again married a man at Seymour, Indiana. This old Napoleonic and Revolutionary veteran lived between the old Samie Wood's farm and Withamsville, where he died about 1850, nearly one hundred years old. The barrel of his old gun, which he carried in the campaigns of Napoleon in Germany and Italy, is in the possession of his son, George, in Batavia township, while the son, Philip, at Cherry Grove, has a paper discharge in French signed by the great Napoleon, testifying to Fishback's brave soldierly qualities, and recounting the many battles in which he participated, Ref. Militia and with Capt Jabez Gregory's Company 1777. Given land grant on Western Reserve. He Married Ann Cooke (1740-1814); Children: Jedidia, ,Halmon Hannah, William, Daniel, Grant Z & David. Mahoning Dispatch, Fri, 2 July 1897, Article No. 24, by Dr. Jackson Truesdale Excerpt from biographical sketch of Cook Fitch: "Editor Dispatch:-The Fitch family is one of interest not only to the people of Canfield, but of Ellsworth, Boardman, Warren and other towns who were favored by the early settlement among them by members of this notable family. The Fitches trace their origin in America back to 1638 when the brothers Thomas and James arrived from England. From the first the family occupied an enviable position among the distinguished families of the colony of Connecticut. James, one of the emigrating brothers, was a learned and prominent clergyman and one of the original proprietors of the town or city of Norwalk, Conn. Cook and Zalmon Fitch, whom we propose to notice more especially, were sons of Haynes Fitch, whose uncle, Thomas Fitch, was for ten years governor of the colony of Connecticut, and while such, drew up the present existing charter of Yale College. The above-named Haynes Fitch, after a series of financial embarrassments, and when well advanced in years, emigrated to Boardman in 1804, his sons Jedediah, Daniel and David coming with him. His sons Cook and Zalmon had preceded him, settling in Canfield. Jedediah, after leaving Boardman, removed to Youngstown, thence to Vienna, and finally to Warren, where he was justice of the peace for 25 years. His last re-election took place when he was 83 years old. In 1832 he was elected a representative to the Ohio legislature. Daniel Fitch settled in Ellsworth, and, if Zalmon Fitch is correct, was the first settler in that township. David, the remaining brother, who came with his father, retained the home farm after the death of his parents. His state-colored residence in Boardman, west of the center, was a conspicuous landmark as long ago as I can remember. He Doed on August 11, 1815 and Buried at Canfield Village Cemetery, Section B-Row 2, Canfield, OH 44406. [39.202526 -83.611974] The Fitzpatrick family lived on Indian Creek, a tributary of New River, in the wild region of Monroe Co., Va. James, the ancestor of the early family of Highland Co., was a spy during the days before the Revolution. In October, 1774, he was among the 800 men commanded by Col. Andrew Lewis of Point Pleasant, the company to which Fitzpatrick was assigned was in charge of Charles Lewis, brother of the colonel.
James Fitzpatrick married and settled down in a log cabin on Indian Creek. He and his wife, Mary Creed Fitzpatrick, were the parents of three stalwart sons and six daughters, who were very healthy specimens of early pioneers. The family cleared land and acquired quite a lot of worldly goods. When the parents were in their sixties, their children grown to adulthood, decided to move to Ross Co. They settled the large estate, selling their land and those possessions which they would be unable to take across the mountains. The family were devout Methodists and supporters of the church near their home. Their many friends, neighbors and relatives hated to see them leave heir midst.56th-77th Annual Reports DAR. FORSHEY (FORSHAY), THOMAS (Monroe County) [39.7280 -81.2694]

Born in 1750 Green County, PA. He served as an Ensign in the 8th Pennsylvania Regiment. He entered the recruiting service of the United States in the Spring of 1775, then in the spring of 1776 joined th 8th under Colonel Enos McCoy in a Company commanded by Captain John Wilson discharged with ill health in 1777. He stated that he was in the service for more than two years. His discharge was signed by a general (possibly General Matthew Hand). The discharge document has been lost. His only evidence of service is his statement and that of others serving with him. He Married Elizabeth__(1757-1832); children: Abraham, Charlott & Solomon. Thomas Forshey received $240 per year pension.
In 1832 when Thomas Forshey was applying for a pension for his service to the United States during the time of the revolution, he and others described his service generally as follows: "In the spring of 1775, he entered the recruiting service for the revolutionary actions of the Continental Army and acted as a recruiting officer at different places in Pennsylvania. In the spring of 1776, he received an Ensign commission and joined Mackay's Battalion at their rendezvous point near the mouth of Georges Creek, Fayette County, Pennsylvania. This battalion, which was authorized by the Continental Congress on July 11, 1776, was named after its commander Aeneas Mackay and used for frontier defense. Thomas Forshey was in the company commanded by Captain John Wilson. The battalion was assigned to General George Washington's main army on November 23, 1776, ordered to join the main army in Philadelphia on December 4, 1776, and was renamed the 8th Pennsylvania Regiment on January 1, 1777. Thomas Forshey was part of the winter march beginning on January 6, 1777 from western Pennsylvania to an encampment at Quibbletown, New Jersey (now New Market near Piscataway). This was a difficult march of over 300 miles with pack horses in mid-winter without tents and proper uniforms. Many deserted and many were forced to hunt for food. About one third were sick and 50 men died during the march including the top two commanders. During part of the March they were in the vicinity of Philadelphia. This battalion was in battles at Rahway, NJ during the Forage Wars and in the Battle of Bound Brook while Thomas Forshey was in the battalion. He was regularly discharged in the spring of 1777 due to health reasons."

He died on December 22, 1836 and buried at Sutherland Methodist Cemetery, 43358 Sandbar Road, Stafford, Franklin Township, Monroe County, OH 43784. Catherine Fedorchak, Monroe County, Ohio, Records, Vol. 3, pp. 32 & 34. Pennsylvania Archives, Fifth Series, Volume III, p. 317.

Ft. Laurens' Unknown Soldier (Tuscarawas County) [40.639586 -81.455061]

Although we don't know the names of five of the soldiers buried at the grounds of Fort Laurens they were more likely young men of the 13th Virginia but the 8th Pennsylvania Regiment is also possible both units were stationed here at the post when the attack at Ft. Laurens came by Indians under the direction of British forces who had been at war with the colonists for more than three years and determined to prohibit their movement westward from the Appalachians

Fort Laurens was built as a strategic location for staging an attack on the British at Fort Detroit during the American Revolution. The Americans completed the construction of Fort Laurens—named after Henry Laurens, president of the Continental Congress—in early December 1778. The fort was to serve three purposes. First, the Americans hoped to use Fort Laurens as a base to attack the British garrison located at Detroit. Second, it would hopefully deter American Indians loyal to the British from conducting raids against American settlers in eastern Ohio and western Pennsylvania. And finally, by offering protection to the neutral Christian Delaware, the Americans might convince them to forsake their neutrality and join the patriots' cause. However, the conditions at the fort were harsh during the winter, and McIntosh removed most of the American forces to Fort Pitt, leaving only about 150 men (from the 8th Pennsylvania Regiment and 13th Virginia Regiment) under the command of Colonel John Gibson. Fort Laurens was the only fort built in the Ohio Country during the Revolutionary War.

In total, 21 soldiers lost their lives at Fort Laurens after a handful of British soldiers and a couple hundred Wyandot, Mingo, Munsee, and Delaware warriors laid siege to the fort before it was abandoned in 1779 and 4 are unknown. Years later, part of the fort was demolished during the building of the Ohio and Erie Canal. Currently none of the original fort remains above ground, but the outline of the fort is visible. On August 2, 1779, Lt. Colonel Richard Campbell and his command of 73 men marched out of Fort Laurens-neither dismantling nor burning the fortifications. With this departure, the only fort built by The Continental Congress in what is today the State of Ohio began its physical decline.

References for the four unknown soldiers is not possible, but their records should be very similar to the other 17 we do know; For Example: [Muster Rolls, National Archives, Record Group 93, Washington, D.C. R,M, Gramly, Fort Laurens 1778-9, Pictorial Record of Excavations, Buffalo, N.Y. Hamilton J. Eckenrode, Compiler, Virginia Soldiers of the American Revolution, Volume 2]. The 5 unknown soldiers are denoted on the Bronze plaque in the memorial museum and included with the other 17 on the Marble Memorial Stone Monument. Fort Laurens Cemetery, 11067 Ft. Laurens Road, Bolivar, OH 44612. Another Granite stone with a SAR emblem has a summary of the massacre. SAR Ancestor # P-335815.

The Commercial Advertizer Dated April 5, 1836. (New York City):
"Another revolutionary Worthy Gone. – Deacen JOHN M. FOGHT, in the 87th year of his age, died April 2, 1836, about (o'clock, A.M. He was baptized March 17, 1776, by Elder John Gano, then pastor of the First Baptist Church in this city, and who was much distinguished as a chaplain during the revolutionary war; during the whole of which, Mr. Foght also, first as a lieutenant, and then as a captain, faithfully served his country. Some years after the war, Mr. Foght was dismissed from the First Baptist Church here to join the Baptist Church at Warwick, N.Y., of which he was a long and respected member and deacon; when he returned to the city and re-united with the church he originally joined. His sentiments, both religious and political, were unwavering and peaceable; and his moral deportment, so far as known, was constantly such as is worthy to be remembered and imitated. He had been accustomed to speak of death as a desirable change; and frequently during his last illness, said to his pastor and other friends, 'I am now going home –the time is near—I shall soon be with Jesus;' nor can any Christian who knew him, doubt that he has realized his confident expectation." "N.B. – The funeral sermon will br preached next Lord's day at 3o'clock, in the Baptist meeting-house in Gold St." Added by: Wilbur Burt 5/23/2012.

John Francis Rev. War pension Application: September 24, 1834 Ross Co. OH.
John Francis of said county, aged 74, declares when he was about 18 years old he volunteered for three months under Capt. John Luckett of the militia in Loudoun Co. VA. where he had been raised from the time he was 3 years old. He belonged to Col. Chapman's regiment and marched from Leesburg about September to Philadephia, passing through Lancaster, and remained there and in the neighborhood while Gen. Washington was stationed near Philadelphia. He served three months and received a discharge and returned home to his family in Loudoun County.
Some time afterward he was drafted for three months under Capt. Thomas Cannon. He proceeded through Fredericksburg to Yorktown. At the time he was drafted he had recently married. He obtained a discharge a few weeks prior to the capture of Cornwallis and returned to family in Loudoun Co. where he remained until he removed to Ohio.
Attached testimonials by Jonathan Hall Francis, and Susannah Wyckoff.
Jonathan Hall Francis: 24 Sept. 1834, Ross Co. Ohio. Jonathan (X) Francis of said county, aged 60, declares he has been acquainted with John Francis about 56 years and believes him to be 74 years of age and knows he was a soldier of the Revolution.
Susannah Wyckoff: 19 Sept. 1834, Eagle Twp. Ross
Susannah (X) Wyckoff declares John Francis volunteered and went out and was gone three months in service as a soldier. In 1781 he was called again on a second time. She was living about his house at the time he started and continued there during his absence and was there when he returned home.

FRANCIS, WILLIAM (Muskingum County) [40.01534 -82.18625]

Born on January 28, 1763 in Loudoun County, Virginia to John Francis and Ann Williams. He served as a Private with the Virginia Militia Continental Troops in the Revolutionary War. He Married Mary Romine (1769-1840) on February 6, 1787; children: Sarah Ann b. 1790, William Jr. b. 1792, Rebecca b. 1794, Alfred b. 1796, Samuel b. 1798, Isaiah b. 1799, Frances W. b. 1800, Stephen b. 1801, Thomas b. 1803, James b. 1804, Levin b. 1805, Demsey b. 1808, Evert b. 1810, Mariah b. 1811, Joseph b. 1814, Mary Ann b. 1816, Fannie b. 1818 and Lenin b. 1820. William Francis was of an old colonial family and was a soldier in the Revolutionary War. He was present at the surrender of Lord Cornwallis to Admiral de Grasse, in Yorktown, Virginia on October 19, 1781. William was only18 at the time. William married in his native state to Miss Mary Romine and it is said that they were the parents of 24 children, 16 of them lived to manhood and woman hood. It is also said that they were four sets of twins among the 24 children, but wehave no record of four sets being born to them. We have uncovered one set, the others we have not. William and Mary were both charter members of the Beulah Primitive Baptist church. He served as deacon for forty years or more. They emigrated here from Louden County, VA. in the year 1816 and located in Licking County, Ohio, near the Muskingum County line, and erected a log house just north of the spring homestead. It is said to have been the first house to be lathed and plastered in Licking county. Their chimneys were built of sticks and plastered inside and out with clay mud seasoned with chaff to hold the mud from falling out. William purchased 350 acres of land from Daniel Shadley, who had emigrated from the same county in Virginia three of four years before when they used greased paper for window glass. He died on May 24, 1847 at 84 years of age in Licking County and buried at Behlah Cemetery, 4550 College Hill Road, Muskingum County, OH 43830. Ref: Notes from the Varner Family Tree. FRANTZ, ADAM, (Tuscarawas County) [40.474 -81.426]

Born on September 6, 1755 Lancaster County, PA. Served as a Sergeant in Colonel Lord's Regiment in 1777, was at battle of Ft Washington and Trenton. He Married Sallie Shirk; children: Martha, Hannah, Mary, Sarah, Adam, John, & David.
Rev. War Pension Application, State of Ohio, Tuscarawas County:
On the fourth day of August A. D. One Thousand Eight hundred and thirty four, personally appeared before the Court of Commonpleas for said County of Tuscarawas, Adam Frantz, a resident of Dover Township in the County of Tuscarawas and State of Ohio, aged seventy eight years on the sixth day of September last past, as near as he can ascertain, who being first duly sworn according to law, doth, on his Oath make the following declaration in order to obtain the benefit of the provisions made by the Act of Congress passed June 7, 1832.
That he volunteered as a private soldier into the service of the United States in the commencement of the revolutionary war, under the command of Captain Jones; That he lived at that time in Lancaster County and State of Pennsylvania; That from old age and loss of memory, he is not able to state the year in which he volunteered as aforesaid, but recollects well that it was during the time in which, from general report, Gen. Howe was threatening the City of New York; That he marched under the command of Capt, Jones aforesaid, and Col. Peter Grubb to Philadelphia, where he remained under those officers nearly two months, for which time he had volunteered; That he thinks for the above service he received no discharge, nor does he now recollect whether that service was full two months or a shorter period; That sometime after harvest when under those officers near Philadelphia a call was made for volunteers to form a flying camp, and that on that occasion he volunteered for four months, among troops which were then called the "flying camp"; That his company was then commanded by Capt. Henry Hausbright, his regiment by Col. John Klotts and that Gen. Magaw was their Superior Officer; That he was at the Battle before Fort Washington under Gen. Magaw, when said fort was taken by the British, and was among those who made their escape from the Island in boats, at the time the battle and the fort were lost, and where he thinks, Gen. Magaw was taken prisoner; That Gen. Hughes was afterwards their commanding officer, under whom said Col. Klott and Lieutenant Witman he served, retreating from Fort Lee, until they crossed the Delaware River at Trenton; That he was at the battle of Trenton on Christmas Day, where the American Troops defeated the British, and took, as he recollect, 935 Hessian prisoners, besides their wounded; That he remained under said officers at Trenton, as he thinks, until New Years day after said Battle, when the last mentioned four months for which he had volunteered terminated and he was honorably discharged; That at that time he received a written discharge signed by Lieutenant William Witman; That he did not consider that said discharge could or would ever be of any service to him, and that he carried it in his jacket pocket until it was worn to pieces and lost; That then he returned to his house in Lancaster County, Pennsylvania.

That the following fall, about seeding time, when news came to Lancaster County, his place of residence, that Gen. Howe was approaching the City of Philadelphia with his Army, he (deponent] was drafted as a Militia man, to serve a tour of two months; That he joined a Regiment at Lancaster under the command of Col. Lord, but whose given name he does not recollect; That the name of his Captain was George Fetter and that they marched from Lancaster to the army of Gen. Washington, whom they joined a few days after the Battle of Brandywine; That the Regiment in which he served was placed under the command of Gen. Hile, and stationed on Barren Hill, after they has crossed the Schuylkill River, as deponent thinks, about two or three miles from Philadelphia; That during the remainder of the time of service, he remained at Barren Hill under said officers, and was in a small skirmish with a detachment of British Troops, who wanted to take some fire wood from the neighborhood of the American encampment; That at the termination of the said two months (during which he had served in the capacity of first Sergeant in his company) he was again discharged. He received at the time a written discharge signed by Capt. George Fetter which was lost in the same manner in which he has related that his first discharge was lost. and that he again returned to his residence in Lancaster County, aforesaid. That about one year afterwards, as he thinks between harvest and seeding time, he was again drafted as a private Militia man, to serve a tour of two months; That his commanding officer was Col. Hover and his Captains name was Barney Gardner; That he marched from Lancaster County under those officers to Sunbury and then to the frontier, which they guarded against the Indians about the neighborhood of Shamokin, and that during the said term of two months he was in no battle nor skirmish; That he was discharged on the frontier and had a written discharge signed by Captain Gardner, which was lost by him in the same manner his other two before mentioned discharges were lost. He hereby relinquishes every claim whatever to a pension or an annuity except the present, and he declares, that his name is not on the pension role of any agency in any state. However, he was issued Pension Ref. S8521 subsequent to an application Dated August 4, 1834. He Died in 1836, in Tuscarawas County and buried at an unknown cemetery. This cemetery is now a forty-year old wood?s. In the valley below the cemetery is the Zachariah P. Dewitt log cabin, which is being preserved, along with Horse corrals and playing fields of Miami. The Bachelor Reserve/Miami Parklands are to the south and east with many nature trails. A few fragments of gravestones remain, as well as a gravestone base near a large dead tree. Many pieces of stone have been found near the old Coulter House, about 150 yards away. Local rumor has it that the stones were used to line a garden walk a number of years ago, probably at the Coulter house, It appears that the graveyard was heavily vandalized and possibly cleared at some time as well.] On his stone is recorded "John Freeman, a soldier of 76, Died Sept 21, 1846, in the 85th year of his age." GAYLORD, JUSTUS, (Delaware County) [40.195 -82.894]

Born in 1732. Served through Revolutionary War from Litchfield, Conn. He married Elizabeth; children : Samuel, Joseph, Walter, John & Nicholas. Justus Gaylord from Norwich, commenced a settlement in Springfield, on the Wyalusing, before Indian hostilities began, but was obliged to removed down the river, to the more densely populated country. When the independent companies were raised, two of his sons, Justus and Ambrose, enlisted in that of Capt. Ransom, and served during the war. On return of peace, the old gentleman and his son, Justus, resumed their possession of Wyalusing. While Ambrose established himself at Braintrim. He married Eleanor Comstock, from Norwich, West Farms. (History of Wyoming, by Miner, Appendix XLVI). "Justus, as we have seen, was one of those who petitioned the same time as his father, 12 May 1757, for town privileges at Norfolk, CT. His name also appears in a deed drawn in 1766. In the old history of Norfolk we read: 'A.D. 1768, Miles Riggs came to Norfolk, and Justus Gaylord lived at the old house near or on the ground where Mr. Atkins lives; house now standing;' 'Miles Riggs thinks he had been told that Samuel Gaylord, the father of Justus Gaylord, had lived in a house a little west of the highway near the grist mill bridge. Thinks the Watsons bought said Justus Gaylord's property.'

Justus Gaylord was one of the earliest settlers in the Wyoming Valley, PA. He was in the company captured by Plunkett in his raid upon Wyoming in 1775, and lodged in the Sunbury jail. Soon after his release he is believed to have come to Wyalusing, living for a short time on the flats below the present village, near where the railroad crosses the line between the old Welles and Stalford estates, although the reference could pertain to his son, Justus Jr. Returning to Wyoming after the revolution, they remained in the lower valley until their house and effects were swept away in the great ice flood of 1784. The family narrowly escaping with their lives. Soon after this disaster they moved up to Wyalusing. Justus Sr. owned 1200 acres of land in the old Connecticut town of Springfield, now Wyalusing. 300 of which were on the west side of the river in Frenchtown or Lower Asylum, where Richard Gilbert afterwards lived. The deed for the purchase of this latter acreage is recorded at Wilkes-Barre. Daniel Shaw of the State of Pennsylvania, for a consideration of 20 (pounds), received from Justus Gaylord of said county, conveys lot 14, surveyed by John Jenkins, in Shawsborough twp.; lot begins at the lower end of a place called by the name of Shuefeltts Flatt on the Susquehanna river, 100 rods wide, and running back so far as to contain 300 acres; dated 24 February 1790. Lots 20 and 21 in Springfield (now Hemets Ferry) had been purchased by Perrin Ross of Plymouth, and sold to Justus Gaylord 28 May 1777, on which it is likely his sons lived previous to the battle of Wyoming. GIBSON, WILLIAM (Tuscarawas County) [40.639586 -81.455061]

Birth site and Date is unknown He served as a Private in the 13th Virginia Regiment in Colonel Campbell's Company commanded by Colonel John Gibson for at least October to February 1779 in OH. He died on February 23, 1779 with a group who were ambushed while gathering firewood at Fort Laurens and killed by Indians under the command of the British. The Americans completed the construction of Fort Laurens—named after Henry Laurens, president of the Continental Congress—in early December 1778 under the command of General Lachlan McIntosh. The fort, built on the west bank of the Tuscarawas River was to serve three purposes. First, the Americans hoped to use Fort Laurens as a base to attack the British garrison located at Detroit. Second, it would hopefully deter American Indians loyal to the British from conducting raids against American settlers in eastern Ohio and western Pennsylvania. And finally, by offering protection to the neutral Christian Delaware's, the Americans might convince them to forsake their neutrality and join the patriots' cause.
In total, 21 soldiers lost their lives at Fort Laurens after a handful of British soldiers and a couple hundred Wyandot, Mingo, Munsee, and Delaware warriors laid siege to the fort before it was abandoned in 1779. Later, part of the fort was demolished during the building of the Ohio and Erie Canal. Currently none of the original fort remains above ground, but the outline of the fort is visible.

Served 3 yrs under Col John Colyer and James Degan, North Carolina. He married Ann Thornberry; children: Mary & John. He Died on March 8, 1849, Dixon Twp. and Buried at (Friendly Church) Harris Cemetery, Wyatt Road, West Florance, Preble County, OH 45320. This is the original burial place of William Gray. In the early 1960's his body and headstone were dug up by descendants and he was re-interred at Concord Cemetery, Eaton, OH just a few miles away. His wife and one of his children are still buried here. Only veteran of the Revolutionary War buried in the cemetery. There is no marker, just a rough stone slab in the middle of a patch of iris flowers. Slab could possibly have been a base for a monument. Seems to be a set of roughly carved rock steps leading up to slab. We found the name Wm Gray very crudely etched on the stone. It is within 4 feet of his wife's stone and 8 feet of his young daughter's. Descendants : Rhea family, Eaton, OH. Fur infor Grace C. Miller, Org Reg, Eaton, OH. Roster of Revolutionary War soldiers buried in Ohio. Many veterans buried in family cemeteries, neighborhood plots or small church burial grounds which are now extinct and or built over during the disappearance of rural areas and the increase of urban communities in Cincinnati Township and/or Hamilton County during the late 19th century or 20th century are now lost to our knowledge. Their families having re-located, their descendants now not knowing their homes, deeds, and/or burial locations lead to their obscurity. Revolutionary War Soldiers, Buried in Hamilton County, Ohio"; Little Miami Publ. Co. Milford, Ohio, 2010. By DAR, Cincinnati Chapter. Many veterans buried in family cemeteries, neighborhood plots or small church burial grounds which are now extinct and or built over during the disappearance of rural areas and the increase of urban communities in Cincinnati Township and/or Hamilton County during the late 19th century or 20th century are now lost to our knowledge. Their families having re-located, their descendants now not knowing their homes, deeds, and/or burial locations lead to their obscurity.

Many veterans buried in family cemeteries, neighborhood plots or small church burial grounds which are now extinct and or built over during the disappearance of rural areas and the increase of urban communities in Hamilton County during the late 19th century or 20th century are now lost to our knowledge. Their families having re-located, their descendants now not knowing their homes, deeds, and/or burial locations lead to their obscurity.

Born ? son of Valentine Harrison. He served as a Major with Virginia in the Revolutionary War. Sarah Crawford; children: Nancy b. 1772 married McKinnon. He was former Sherriff of Yohogania County, PA. He died in 1782, killed on the Sandusky Expedition and buried at Sandusky Battlefield Cemetery, Upper Sandusky, Wyandot County, OH. The battle of sandusky was fought in and around the grove known as "Battle Island, " in what is now Crane Township, Wyandot county, three miles north, and half a mile east, of the courthouse in Upper sandusly. This spot has balways been readily identifed, by reason of the scars upon the trunks of the trees, made by the hachets of the Indians in getting out the bullets after the action. But the "Island" may now said to have disappeared. Cultivated fields mark the spot where the contest took place. Occasionally an interesting relic is turned up by the plowshare, to be preserved by the curious as a memento of the battle. Grave Registry form. HAYES, S. SETH, (Geauga County) [41.4603004 -81.1464005]

Born in Russell, Mass. Served as a Pvt. under Capt Burr's in Col Moseley's Massachusetts Regt. Arrived in camp, July 13. Stationed along Hudson River. He Married Elizabeth__; Children: Ira, Enos, Lorin, Olive, Betsy, Marilla, Martin, Riley. Seth Hayes - had been here before, but the family came this year, and probably occupied the bark cabin, which Col. Beard had left. They came originally from Russell, Hampshire, Massachusetts. Kirtland mentions, under date of August 2, 1799, giving Hayes an order for $170, to get mill irons, and that, August 17th, Moss returned from Fort McIntosh with mill irons. Riddle says, Hayes bought them at the new works in Pittsburgh, and boated them up the Big Beaver. Moss met him with an ox cart. Probably the cart was Clark's wagon. Ira and Enos were children with the family. When a log house had been built on lot 14, north of the road leading west from Gilum Hotchkiss', and on the high bank west of Hopson's creek, they moved in. The barn across the road, south, was built in 1810. Lorin, Olive, Betsey, Marilla, Martin and Riley, were born in Burton, making 8 children. He was a strong man, and a hunter that could pick his game from under cover, by surprise -- or fight. Seth his wife and three of their children died in an epidemic during the winter of 1815 on December 25th and Buried first on private property. The owners didn't want to have the site marked fearing trespassing and vandalism. At a ceremony on May 30, 1987 a government stone was dedicated by SAR at Memorial Cemetery, Lot 18 –Sec 11, Chardon, Geauga County, OH 44021. Also known as Fox Cemetery, Lower Cemetery, as rest of family are buried there. Administrator of his estate aptd March 10, 1816, Chardon, OH. Brought family to Burton in 1800. Was member of First M. HAYS, TIMOTHY (Tuscarawas County) [40.639586 -81.455061]

Birth site and Date is unknown He served as a Private in the 13th Virginia Regiment in Colonel Campbell's Company commanded by Colonel John Gibson for at least October to February 1779 in OH. He died on February 23, 1779 with a group who were ambushed while gathering firewood at Fort Laurens and killed by Indians under the command of the British. The Americans completed the construction of Fort Laurens—named after Henry Laurens, president of the Continental Congress—in early December 1778 under the command of General Lachlan McIntosh. The fort, built on the west bank of the Tuscarawas River was to serve three purposes. First, the Americans hoped to use Fort Laurens as a base to attack the British garrison located at Detroit. Second, it would hopefully deter American Indians loyal to the British from conducting raids against American settlers in eastern Ohio and western Pennsylvania. And finally, by offering protection to the neutral Christian Delaware's, the Americans might convince them to forsake their neutrality and join the patriots' cause.
In total, 21 soldiers lost their lives at Fort Laurens after a handful of British soldiers and a couple hundred Wyandot, Mingo, Munsee, and Delaware warriors laid siege to the fort before it was abandoned in 1779. Later, part of the fort was demolished during the building of the Ohio and Erie Canal. Currently none of the original fort remains above ground, but the outline of the fort is visible.

HILL, GEORGE, (Fairfield County) [39.846746 -82.47127]

Born in 1758 and was living in Cecil County, Maryland when at age 20, on April 20, 1778 he enlisted as a private in the Second Troop of Horse in the newly created Second Partisan Corps of the Continental Army, also called Lee's Partisan Corps, or more famously, Lee's Legion. His enlistment was for the duration of the war and he would serve over five years. His commanding officer, Major (later Lt. Colonel) Henry Lee, was the legendary "Light Horse Harry" Lee, known for his daring against the enemy and George Washington's favorite cavalry officer. Light Horse Harry's Legion would garner fame for its aggressive tactics combining cavalry and infantry, and for its prowess in battle and raiding from New York to Georgia, particularly in the southern campaign of 1781 against Lord Cornwallis. According to army pay records and muster rolls, George Hill served as a farrier for Second Troop during his first year, but by the summer of 1780 he was serving as a light dragoon. He was promoted to corporal in May, 1783 and was detached from active service on June 19, 1783. He was present for a final muster in July, 1784. In muster rolls and in his promotion to corporal, George Hill's name often appears next to another dragoon named John Manly, also from Cecil County, Maryland. Their names would appear together in many instances during and after the war. Both were awarded land bounties of 50 acres each from the state of Maryland for their services in the Revolution, and also land bounties of 100 acres each in the Military Land District of the Northwest Territory soon to become the state of Ohio. On May 23, 1789 George Hill married John's sister, Elizabeth Manly, and they settled in Cecil County. They had two sons, William and Jonathan. The Hill and Manly families would travel to Ohio in 1804 and settle on 320 acres in the Congressional Land District administered by the Chillicothe Land Office. They would be among the first settlers of Walnut Township in Fairfield County according to a letter written in 1877 by Joseph G. Wiseman, an early resident of New Salem. Both George Hill and John Manly are acknowledged in the letter as veterans of the Revolution and Lee's Legion of Horse. On February 27, 1814 George Hill died at the age of 56. Before he passed, George acquired his friend's debt, and it appears in the listing of debts on George Hill's estate in Fairfield County Probate Court records: "From John Manly (estate of) in note $197.28." Friends unto death, in war and peace. Buried at New Salem Methodist Protestant Cemetery, Pleasantville, Fairfield County, OH. He has an upright tombstone. HODDY (HOBDAY), RICHARD (Ross County) [39.4075 -83.1928]

Born in 1759 in Gloucester County, Virginia. He served as a sergeant in Captain Lipcomb's and Captain Henry Young's Companies in Colonel Alexander McClenachan's 7th Virginia Regiment, he is listed as /HOBDAY) an "Artificer" and "Sgt. of Cav." variously of units of the 7th , 11th and 15th Continental Line (Virginia). He married 1) Mary __ , 2) Jane __ (1775-_) in Harpers Ferry. Virginia in 1799; children: #1Robert b. 1783 and #2 Keziah b. 1801. He migrated to the Scioto Va1ley from Harpers Ferry in 1796 and died

in1830 near Frankfort. Concord Township. Ross County. Ohio. Burial is unknown but a memorial stone commemorating his service has been placed in the Greenlawn Cemetery in Frankfort. Ohio. Richard Hoddy, father of Robert, was a Revolutionary soldier. Chillicothe boasted of but one cabin when Richard Hoddy landed there. Two thousand Indians, from Oldtown, were encamped on the bank of the Scioto, where the upper bridge now spans the river. Richard Hoddy entered five hundred acres of land on Paint creek, four miles below Oldtown, and there erected the first grist mill and saw mill in the valley. He died on his farm in 1830. On the death of his father Captain Hoddy succeeded to the business, and added a distillery to the diversified milling interests, though it is understood that the distillery business was taken up many years before the father's death, since it is mentioned in the "Pioneer Record of Ross County" as the "first distillery in the valley." Captain Robert Hoddy served as adjutant under Col. William Clark during the war of 1812. He was also commander of the post where British prisoners were confined after the war, holding that position until they were released. In civil life, he served as land appraiser, assessor and tax collector of Concord township; and in every phase of his eventful life he deported himself and discharged his varied duties with great honor to himself and satisfaction to his constituency. Captain Hoddy married. Elizabeth, daughter of Peter Putnam, who was also a very early settler of the Paint creek valley, coming from Hampshire county, VA, in 1809. Peter Putnam was a lineal descendant of the same stock which furnished us such men as Gens. Israel and Rufus Putnam. Both the Hoddy and Putnam families have many descendants in Ross county at the present day. HOLE, DR. JOHN, (Montgomery County) [39.63675 -84.15797]

Born on April 30, 1754 in Newark, Essex, NJ or VA. Parents : Youngest of 11 children of Jacob Hole, a grandson of Daniel Hole who came from England and settled in New York late in the 17th century. Commissioned Asst Surgeon and was at Bunker Hill. Was at Cambridge when the army was reorganized by Gen Washington. Appointed Assistant Surgeon in Col McGaw's 5th Battalion at the Battle of Bunker Hill. Was a regular Surgeon with Generals Montgomery and arnold at the Battle of Quebec and saw Gen Montgomery killed. Was on medical staff of Gen Richard Montgomery at Quebec, where for want of lights he dressed the wounds of soldiers beneath the walls of the fort by the flashes of muskets and cannon. Went with the first VA Militia to Mass and continued in service until the close of war. He Married 1) Hannah Clark, 2) Massie Ludlow, of N. J. Aug 14, 1778. (Br Feb 28, 1759, D July 25, 1842); Children: Jane, Elizabeth, John Ludlow, Nancy, Jeremiah, Elizabeth, David, Matilda, Phebe, Mary, William, Polly. He Died on January 6, 1813, Washington Twp, Montgomery Co, OH and Buried at Sugar Creek Baptist Cemetery, Old Centerville Plot, N. Main Street, Centerville, Montgomery Co., OH 45459. on ridge in center of cem near other Revolutionary soldiers. MI : "A large chiseled weeping willow tree. Dr. John Hole, died January 6, 1813, in the 58th year of his life." His wife is buried at his side. GM Richard Montgomery Chap, S. A. R., with official bronze Montgomery Co marker July 1, 1919. In 1796 he moved west in covered wagon and located at Cincinnati, but after prospecting up the Miami Valley in 1797 he moved his family to Silver Creek where he finally (about 1799) located 1440 acres of land, paying for it in military bounty land warrants for his Revolutionary services. He came fr a family of Baptists and was the first person baptized in Silver Creek. Here he built his cabin and reared his family of six children. The creek was renamed "Hole's Creek" and retains the name at this time. His long army service indicates that he was the peer of his contemporaries in the medical profession. Traditions of the neighborhood testify that his pretentious log cabin was long the center of pioneer hospitality and culture. He was the first physician in the locality, and although his practice extended over many miles of territory he found time to build and run two mills south of Dayton. He received his literary and medical training in Germany where he was sent in 1766. Socially he entertained Washington, Jefferson, and the best, socially, in the Revolutionary times in his NJ home. It was at the suggestion of Dr. Hole that this county was named "Montgomery" for Gen Richard Montgomery, who fell mortally wounded at Quebec, while leading his troops on Dec 31, 1775. The name of Nicholas Hoyt appeared in the "History of Morgan County" written by Charles Robertson, MD, in 1886, as an early settler but only recently has it been documented that this man and his father-in-law James Luke Brown were indeed soldiers of the Revolution. They served in Colonel Bartlett's New Hampshire Regiment, Revolutionary War. James Brown moved into Perry Township, Muskingum County to become the first settler to build a cabin, a store, and an inn on the Old National Road or the "Zanes Trace". His son-in-law, Nicholas who married Olive, stayed in Morgan County and eventually settled in Center Township where he lived out his life. He was pensioned, Applying in Morgan County Ohio as a resident of Center Township on July 19, 1832 Ref.# 2618. He received an annual allowance of $32.36. He died at 71 years of age on May 25, 1834 in Morgan County Ohio and buried at Crossroards Cemetery, Center Township, Morgan County, Ohio 45715. DAR, Patriot Index Centennial Edition, Part 2, p.1516. Many veterans buried in family cemeteries, neighborhood plots or small church burial grounds which are now extinct and or built over during the disappearance of rural areas and the increase of urban communities in Anderson Township and/or Hamilton County during the late 19th century or 20th century are now lost to our knowledge. Their families having re-located, their descendants now not knowing their homes, deeds, and/or burial locations lead to their obscurity.

ILES (ISLES or OILES), HENRY (Licking County) [40.253642 -82.555606]

Born on December 21,1749 in England. Served in the Revolutionary War, Taken as a prisoner of war in New York. Through his kindness to the prison guards, he obtained their good will, and they enabled to make his escape on foot. In Rockingham County, Virginia he married Mary M. Stine (1763-1832); children: John b. 1784, Henry b. 1786, Elizabeth b. 1787, Jacob b.1791, Adam b. 1795, Fredrick b. 1793, David b. 1797, Samuel b. 1799, Sarah b. 1804 & George b. 1803. He was a tailor. He Died on December 21, 1814 at the age of 56 years and Buried at Isles Family Cemetery, Homer, Bennington Twp., Licking Co., OH. Cemetery notes and/or description: Small family cemetery on land formerly part of the family's farm acquired about 1802. It is located entirely in Bennington Township, Licking County, Ohio, near the town of Homer. The stones and their inscriptions were documented for the Licking County Genealogy Society and published in a typewritten, photocopied document which is available in a binder at the Homer Public Library. The single page describes inscriptions from Isles, Spicer, and Mead Cemeteries. This documentation occurred prior to 1976. Some items in the binder refer to previous surveys from the 1930s and before. This item is not dated or otherwise identified. At the time of the survey, the cemetery was surrounded by an iron fence. The cemetery is near County Road 2 between the township line and Bennington Chapel. Plant growth obscures the view from the road and satellite map. Certified by the Licking County Genealogical Society as the member of a "First Family of Licking Co., OH.

Note: Henry's surname is sometimes given an alternate spelling of "Iles" on old records not generated by the family. Later generations, however, sometimes adopted the "Iles" spelling. Although there is no absolute evidence for an alternative history, some students of genealogy of Hessian troops who fought in the Revolution believe Henry could be one Johann Henrich Eyl from Schorbach, Germany. They support this view with records of Eyl's military service in Germany, being among the prisoners taken by Washington's army, and inclusion on a roster as a deserter from Long Island, NY, on Oct. 31, 1782. Further argument is made that one Henry Oill swore an oath of allegiance in Philadelphia on Nov. 5, 1782. In comparison, two of Henry Isle's children opted to spell their surname "Oiles." Persons from this camp speculate that Henry and his family suppressed information of their Hessian heritage to avoid fallout from propaganda which depicted Hessians as violent war criminals. Since this memorial is primarily to record the location of Henry Isles's final resting place, this additional information is included to facilitate the search under either name.

JAMISON, DAVID (Franklin County) [39.979 -83.011]

Born ? He served as a Soldier in the Revolutionary War. He married Sarah __ ; children: He died ? and buried at Franklinton Cemetery, Franklin County, OH. Established in 1799, Franklinton Cemetery is believed to be the oldest burying ground in Central Ohio. The cemetery was known as being a beautiful graveyard nestled in a locust grove with a board fence throughout the early to mid 1800s. The cemetery also marks the location of the first church in Central Ohio, built in 1811, but the building has been gone for quite some time. Franklinton Cemetery is all but forgotten today. Only a few tombstones remained standing during our visit and they were in pretty bad shape. The entire cemetery was surrounded by a stone wall. Before the wall was built, records indicate vandals would drive their wagons into the cemetery and remove tombstones to be used as doorsteps. A large monument telling the history of the cemetery was later erected at its center. Veterans of the Revolutionary War are buried in the cemetery. Many graves were moved to Greenlawn Cemetery in Columbus.

KELLER, JOHN (Clark County) [39.91808 -83.90147]

Born on January 11, 1758 in Lancaster Co., Pennsylvania to parents Sebastian Keller(1729-1808) & Karoline Rosina Siber (1735-1765). He was called into service in July, 1776 as a private in Capt. George Gantz' Co. of Col. Bartram Gilbraith's Regt. of Penn. militia, to serve for three months.. His Co. assembled at Lancaster, Pa. and marched to Phila- delphia where they boarded a small ship going to Trenton, New Jersey, upon arrival they immediately marched to Perth-Amboy, N. J. The first night of the march they were quartered in houses that were deserted by British sympathizers. During their two week stay at Amboy they were harassed by enemy cannon fire and were forced to take shelter in trenches near the river. They marched to Bergen, N. J. that was in sight of New York. He served the balance of his three months tour here and was able to hear the cannon firing at the Battle of Long Island. Capt. Gantz' Company did not see action, but were held to protect that section of the Jersey shore. John Kellar was called up for service the second time in October 1777 for two months in Capt. Martin Earhart's Co., also of Col. Bartram Gil- braith's Regt. of Penn. militia. He was assigned to guard the powder magazine at Lebanon, PA. The Company wasn't relieved and were forced to spend another month on duty, John was discharged in January, 1778. He was married 1778-1781 to Phoebe Steckley (1762-1853) who was born in Switzerland; children: Salome b. 1782, Mary b. 1783, John b. 1785, Christina b. 1799 and Anna b. 1800.
The Kellar family moved from Lancaster Co. in 1790 to the Shenandoah Valley, near Salem in Botetourt Co., Va. They lived there until 1809, when they moved to Ohio. Records indicate that they lived for short time in Hamilton County before coming to Clark Co., Ohio where he spent the rest of his life of more than thirty years. He purchased fifty acres of farm land, Sec. 34, T.4 R.9 as shown in tax records of 1826 for Clark Co., Ohio. He applied for military pension in 1833 and was awarded $20.00 per annum, payable from 4 March 1831, under pension certificate 22378. The last payment made prior to his death was receipted 4 March 1837, indicating his death occurred after that date and prior to 4 Sept. 1837 when it was due, but never paid.
John is buried at the Frantz-Ebersole Cemetery located 1/4 mile south of 4823 W. National Rd., Bethel Tp.., Clark Co., OH 45504 14823 W. National Rd., Bethel Tp.., Clark Co t is assumed his wife, Phoebe, is buried at his side. The graves are unmarked, except for the base of a Rev. War marker placed there by the D.A.R. in 1906.

Many veterans buried in family cemeteries, neighborhood plots or small church burial grounds which are now extinct and or built over during the disappearance of rural areas and the increase of urban communities in Hamilton County during the late 19th century or 20th century are now lost to our knowledge. Their families having re-located, their descendants now not knowing their homes, deeds, and/or burial locations lead to their obscurity.

KIRTLAND, TURHAND, (Mahoning County) [41.01913 -80.60926]

Born on November 16, 1753 or 55 in Wallingford, Connecticut to parents Constant (1727-1792) and Rachael __Kirtland (1732-1812). Served as a Capt Conn State Troops, also in Provisional serv of N.Y. at the time of the defeat of the Amer Army. Was engaged on the boat that convoyed the army form Long Island over to the mainland. He Married Mary Potter (1772-1850); Children: Dr. Jared P, Henry, Billius, George, Mary P, Charles & Nancy. Turhand, of the fifth generation of Kirtlands in this country, was one of the proprietors of the Connecticut Land Company in the purchase of the Western Reserve from the mother state.In the first draft of the Company in 1798, he, with several others, under the name of Caleb Atwater, drew the township of Mecca and part of the township of Auburn, and in company with Messrs. Benjamin Doolittle, Samuel Doolittle, Seth Hart, Win. Law, Andrew Hull, Titus Street, Levi Tomlinson and Daniel Holbrook,under the name of Benjamin Doolittle, he drew the townships of Poland and Burton,and over two thousand acres in Kirtland, as well as many minor amounts in other townships. Three months after this draft, April 1798, he set out with his party of surveyors and settlers upon the arduous journey to the Northwest Territory, where lay these new possessions, and each succeeding summer he returned, until 1803,when his family accompanied him and he settled in Poland.

For many years he acted as agent for the Connecticut Land Company, and, until he retired from active business in 1834, he had charge of the greater part of the lands of those proprietors of the Connecticut Land Company who resided in the East.He took a prominent part in the affairs of the Reserve, establishing Libraries and schools; as early as 1805 he had secured sufficient funds from the settlers to purchase a fine library for Poland, and this library was kept abreast of the times as long as he lived. He was one of the first to urge the necessity of a western college and he contributed most generously both in time and money to that institution which eventually became the Western Reserve College.
Turhand Kirtland was elected State Senator for Trumbull County in 18 14; he was Associate Judge of the Court of Common Pleas for several terms, and was Justice of the Peace in Poland for over twenty years. The Diary, relating his early experiences in New Connecticut, ends abruptly inthe fall of 1800. Presumably the remaining pages have been lost in the hundred and more years intervening, but enough remains to show the unflagging energy and indomitable perseverance of the man—no complaints, no regrets, no maligning, but a steady pushing forward amid the untold trials and privations of those pioneer days.The imprint for good, Judge Kirtland has left upon the character of the Western Reserve, will be felt for many succeeding generations."

He Died in 1820 and Buried near church, in Old Springfield Cemetery, Row 13, New Middletown, Mahoning County, OH. Cemetery Notes: Section 14 SE corner - east side of SR 170 south east of New Middletown. On 4 June 1804 the German Lutheran and German Reformed congregations of Springfield Twp voted to build a joint meeting house on 1 acres of land belonging to Peter and Christina Messerle. Old Springfield Cemetery is one of the oldest graveyards in the county and a great many hours have been devoted to making the record of its stones as accurate as possible. The cemetery was first copied in the fall of 1971 and in 1976. about fifty loose stones piled under the old pines were unearthed and painstakingly chalked and deciphered. By 1982 many of the fallen stones had been erected again, so the cemetery was completely recpopied in the correct order; all inscriptions were reread and compared, further efforts were made to decipher all worn and illegible stones; and the many German stones were copied verbatim. LAUMAN (LOWMAN), GEORGE (Clark County)

Born on July 23, 1765 in PA son of George Lowman (1722-1800) and Mary (1733-1826). He Served in the Revolutionary War as a Private with PA, in the 3rd Company of the 1st Battalion of the Cumberland County, Pennsylvania Militia, first commanded by Capt. Noah Abraham of Path Valley and later by Capt. Wm. Berryhill. Fifteen year old George was enrolled in the 7th Class of the 3rd Company. He married Susan Herman (1772-1849) in Sept 1793; children: Elizabeth b. 1793, Joseph b. 1794, Mary b. 1796, David b. 1798, John b. 1800, Catherine b. 1802, Susannah b. 1804, Samuel b. 1806, George b. 1809, Abraham b. 1811, Harmon b. 1813, James b. 1815 and Eva b. 1819. Presumably they began their married life in Virginia, then moved to Pennsylvania sometime before the federal census of 1800, which enumerated them in Adams County. Later that year, George inherited a three-quarter interest in his father's farm and became executor of his father's estate. This estate was not settled until about 1805, after which George reportedly moved south into Rockbridge County, Virginia. Within four or five years he moved again. After selling the Pennsylvania farm in 1810, George took his large family, including his mother Mary, to Ohio and settled in Champaign (after 1818 Clark) County, where he and Susannah lived out the rest of their lives. George moved his family and his widowed mother to Ohio in 1810 and became early settlers in Champaign (after 1818 Clark County) settled on a farm of 322 acres in Bethel Township of Clark County, section 23. George Lowman died August 21, 1848 and is buried in the Funderburg Cemetery, New Carlisle, Clark County, Ohio next to his wife and his mother.

LAWLER, MATTHEW (Hamilton County) [39.1644218 -84.5214516]

Born in Philadelphia, PA. in January 1, 1755, he served as a Privateer and a Lt. on the "Holker" and later Captain of the "Ariel", capturing over six British ships [The Prince of Wales, The Recovery, The Diana, The Carteret, The Charming Peggy] and their contents (including rum, sugar, molasses, tobacco, rice, fustic, deerskins, barrel staves, and tar); supporting the revolution. He served as Mayor of Philadelphia for four one year terms. Matthew married Ann Bevan (1761-1835) and they had several children, including a son Davis Bevan b. 1786. Lawler who erected a memorial in Spring Grove Cemetery, another son Nicholas is buried there also, and a daughter Sarah who married Ben Harbeson in 1804. Died in Hamilton County on July 14, 1831, first interred at the Episcopal Burial Ground, in Cincinnati, Ohio. Remains moved to Spring Grove Cemetery, Section 45, Lot 49 in 1847. REF: Gravestones and markers.
An accounting by the marshal of the admiralty covering the Holker's cruise in August and September, 1779, shows payment of one hundred and seventy-three prize shares. Following the distribution specified by Congress for Continental prizes, these would indicate twenty-five commissioned, warrant, and petty officers, and seventy-five seamen, landsmen, marines and boys. was begun in the late 1700's and was dedicated in 1976 to Barnerd Boatman, a Revolutionary War soldier, who served with General George Washington. It was formerly known as "The Old Cemetery", "Quaker Cemetery", "Old East Palestine Cemetery" and "The Presbyterian Cemetery". It had been abandoned for many years when Barnerd Boatman's grave was found. It was once the graveyard of "The Calvanistic Meeting House", the first church in East Palestine. There are about 194 known burials in the cemetery that are listed on one side of a permanent memorial marker. On the other side are names of 21 veterans of 4 wars: the Revolutionary War, the War of 1812, the Mexican War and the Civil War. Burial records have not been found. The permanent marker was erected in 1990 by the American Legion, Post 31, of East Palestine. LOOKER, OTHNIEL (Clermont County)

Born October 4, 1757 in Hanover, Morris Co. NJ. He was the only Ohio governor who ever lived in Clermont County as of 1901. Governor Looker was the only Ohio governor who served in the Revolution. He was a private in the New York line and was born near Albany, New York. He was in Washington's army at the time of Benedict Arnold's treason and belonged to Washington's body guard. He was a carpenter and house-joiner by occupation and lived in poverty. He came to Cincinnati in 1792 and built some of the first frame houses there. He was elected to the Lower House of the Ohio General Assembly in 1807,1808, and 1809. In 1810 he was chosen to the Ohio State Senate and reelected in 1812 and 1814. In the Twelfth General Assembly he was made Speaker of the Senate. While serving as speaker he became Governor in March, 1814 in the place of Return Jonathan Meigs, who resigned the governorship to become the Postmaster General of our country under Presidents Madison and Monroe. As there was no Lieutenant Governor under the Ohio Constitution of 1802, the Speaker of the Senate succeeded to the office of Governor. He served as Governor until after the election in October, 1814, at which time he was a candidate to succeed himself, but he was defeated by General Thomas Worthington of Chillicothe. He married Pamela Clark. Died Aug 24, 1846 in Palestine, IL? and is Buried at Kitchell Cem. [SAR P-238231 Revolutionary War Graves Register. Clovis H. Brakebill, compiler. 672pp. SAR. 1993. LOWMAN (LAUMAN), GEORGE (Clark County) [39.9323 -84.0005]

Born on July 23, 1765 in Berkley County, Virginia to parents George (1722-1800) and Mary (1733-1826) Lowman. George Lowman served as a Private in the 3rd Company of the 1st Battalion of the Cumberland County, Pennsylvania Militia, first commanded by Capt. Noah Abraham of Path Valley and later by Capt. Wm. Berryhill. Fifteen year old George was enrolled in the 7th Class of the 3rd Company. The marriage of George Lowman to Susannah Herman (1772-1849) reportedly occurred in 1792, a date generally substantiated by the 15 Sept. 1793 birth- date of their first child. Susannah is buried in the Heck-Funderburg burying ground in Bethel Twp., Clark Co., Ohio; children: Elizabeth b. 1793, Joseph b. 1794, Mary b. 1796, David b. 1798, John b. 1800, Catherine b. 1802, Susannah b. 1804, Samuel b. 1806, George b. 1809, Abraham b. 1811, Harmon b. 1813, James b. 1815 and Eva b. 1819. Presumably they began their married life in Virginia, then moved to Pennsylvania sometime before the federal census of 1800, which enumerated them in Adams County.Later that year, George inherited a three-quarter interest in his father's farm and became executor of his father's estate.This estate was not settled until about 1805, after which George reportedly moved south into Rockbridge County, Virginia.Within four or five years he moved again.After selling the Pennsylvania farm in 1810, George took his large family, including his mother Mary, to Ohio and settled in Champaign (after 1818 Clark) County, where he and Susannah lived out the rest of their lives. George moved his family and his widowed mother to Ohio in 1810 and became early settlers in Champaign (after 1818 Clark County) settled on a farm of 322 acres in Bethel Township of Clark County, section 23. George

Lowman died August 21, 1848 and is buried in the Funderburg Cemetery, New Carlisle, Clark County, Ohio next to his wife and his mother. References: Penn. McCLEAVE, GEORGE (Clark County) [39.926657 -83.813319]

Born in Maryland or Ireland in 1751. He served in the Chester County, Pennsylvania Militia in 1780, 8th Class, 3rd Company, 6th Battalion commanded by Lt. Colonel Davis, He was called again into service in the forepart of the year 1781, and later that same year, He served a total of three times with the Chester County Militia. He married ___ ; children Elizabeth, John, Benjamin b. 1782 and Mary. The McCleave family emigrated to Ohio and settled on the Big Miami River near Colerain about 1790. George McCleave was a tall man and of good personal appearance; a shoemaker by trade, which he learned in Philadelphia. Shortly after their arrival in Ohio, the mother died, leaving George with help from his oldest daughter, Elizabeth, to care for the remaining children. In the year 1791, several hundred Indians led by Simon Girty, besieged the garrison at Colerain where the McCleaves lived, and Elizabeth with the other women of the place did her part in defending the fort by moulding bullets for the men who kept up a vigorous fight until relieved by a rescue party from Ft. Washington.
Elizabeth McCleave (1780-1849) married on August 22, 1801 Samuel Smith son of Dr. Peter Smith and Catherine Stout Smith, and had thirteen children. The Smith family moved to Clark County Ohio, and eventually settled near Donnels Creek.
Mary McCleave married in 1818 Nathan Reddish, a widower with five children. They settled east of Springfield, Ohio. Mary died sometime before 1826.
John McCleave (1778-1846) the eldest son, left Colerain on the Miami in the year 1803, moved to Indiana, later to the Illinois territory by 1819. John married in 1801 Mary Benfiel, daughter of Col. John Benfiel, and had eight children. Benjamin McCleave and his first wife, Rachel, had three children. He married his second wife March 12, 1816 in Butler County, Ohio. She was Margaret (Kennedy) Craven, a widow with five children of the Revolutionary soldier John Craven. Benjamin and Margaret had five children of this union. Benjamin McCleave left the Ohio territory in 1819 and moved to Illinois with his family, taking his father, George, then advanced in years. After staying with his sons about two years, working at his trade of shoemaking, the old gentleman became dissatisfied and decided to return to Ohio. His sons, John and Benjamin, procured a horse, saddle, and bridle for him and he rode through to Ohio by himself. He safely reached his destination (Clark County, Ohio) where he spent his last days at the homes of his daughters, Elizabeth (McCleave) Smith near Donnelsville and Mary (McCleave) Reddish near Springfield. He died in 1824 and buried at the old graveyard on Columbia Street: Columbia Street Cemetery, Row 9 – Grave 18,

McCLURKIN, MATHEW, (Preble Co.) [39.58470 -84.72080]

Born 1761 in Ireland. He served in the Revolutionary War, Matthew, and three of his brothers (John, Thomas and Archibald), served in the Revolutionary War. From his pension file, we learn that Matthew was living in Chester County, South Carolina when he volunteered in the spring of 1780. He served under the Command of Lieutenant Houston and Colonel Sumter. His service began at Indian Lands near the Catawba River, A small company of volunteers marched from Indian Lands to a place called Hanging Rock near the Catawba River, where early in the morning they attacked and defeated a company of Tories who were commanded by Colonel Bryan. The British soldiers were encamped about half a mile away and they made an attack on the volunteers who held their ground until evening. Then the volunteers left and marched to Bigger's Ferry on the Catawba River. At this place, the volunteers were attacked by the British forces and Matthew was severely wounded in the head and taken prisoner by the British troops. He and the other prisoners were taken to Charlotte in North Carolina, and confined in jail. Then they were sent to Camden in South Carolina and there confined in a prison for about 10 weeks. Then he was sent to Charleston to be put aboard a prison ship. On the way, about 16 miles from Camden, he and the other prisoners overpowered the guard and made their escape. About 2 weeks after his escape he again entered the service as a volunteer under Colonel Sumter. This time, the volunteers took a British Garrison about 3 miles south of the Congaree River at Thompson's Plantation (Calhoun County). Matthew continued in the service for some time with Colonel Sumter in the south part of South Carolina. He was again taken prisoner by the British and was sent to Camden and confined as a prisoner until he obtained a parole from the British and returned to Chester. He married Jennet McClurkin about 1786; children: Catharine, Joseph, James, John, Jane, Agnes & Elizabeth. Jennet McClurkin was the daughter of James McClurkin Sr. and Mary. Jennet was born about 1766 in Ballymena, Co. Antrim, Ireland. She was a passenger on the Lord Dunlace that arrived in Charlestown December 20, 1772.

R. with official marker. July 4, 1922. Forty-five years of age Col McCune moved to Ohio, and he was one of those early pioneers who opened the wilderness, and made a home and "local habitation" for generations to come. He was one of Nature's nobility ; ever kind-hearted as a parent, the friend of man, and an uncompromising Democrat. He represented the people of Jefferson Co for some yrs in the legislature of the state, he was a leading member of the Presbyterian church and fulfilled his duties in life as a Christian and patriot. He died full of yrs, and was bur with the honors of war. Peace to the ashes of the veteran citizen, and patriotic soldier of the Revolution. A large circle of relatives and friends mourn his loss; let them cherish his manifold virtues, and may we all, when overtaken by death, be found as innocent and free fr faults, as the honest old warrior who fought for human rights and the blessings of liberty. McCURDEN, HUGH (Tuscarawas County) [40.639586 -81.455061]

Birth site and Date is unknown He served as a Private in the 13th Virginia Regiment in Colonel Campbell's Company commanded by Colonel John Gibson for at least October to February 1779 in OH. He died on February 23, 1779 with a group who were ambushed while gathering firewood at Fort Laurens and killed by Indians under the command of the British. The Americans completed the construction of Fort Laurens—named after Henry Laurens, president of the Continental Congress—in early December 1778 under the command of General Lachlan McIntosh. The fort, built on the west bank of the Tuscarawas River was to serve three purposes. First, the Americans hoped to use Fort Laurens as a base to attack the British garrison located at Detroit. Second, it would hopefully deter American Indians loyal to the British from conducting raids against American settlers in eastern Ohio and western Pennsylvania. And finally, by offering protection to the neutral Christian Delaware's, the Americans might convince them to forsake their neutrality and join the patriots' cause.
In total, 21 soldiers lost their lives at Fort Laurens after a handful of British soldiers and a couple hundred Wyandot, Mingo, Munsee, and Delaware warriors laid siege to the fort before it was abandoned in 1779. Later, part of the fort was demolished during the building of the Ohio and Erie Canal. Currently none of the original fort remains above ground, but the outline of the fort is visible.

Many veterans buried in family cemeteries, neighborhood plots or small church burial grounds which are now extinct and or built over during the disappearance of rural areas and the increase of urban communities in Crosby Township and/or Hamilton County during the late 19th century or 20th century are now lost to our knowledge. Their families having re-located, their descendants now not knowing their homes, deeds, and/or burial locations lead to their obscurity.

MORRIS, CORNELIUS (Clark County) [39.952799 -83.811140]

Born on October 2, 1759 in Maryland. He served as a private in Capt. Lloyd Bell's Co., Maryland. He enlisted as a soldier in the service of the United States on Continental Establishment in the State of Maryland in the year 1779 or 80, Cornelius joined the army at Annapolis in the regiment commanded (he thought) by Col. John Stewart. He marched from Maryland to Virginia under the command of General Gates, through the Carolinas, was in General Gates' defeat at Gum Swamp; he was also at the Battle of Camden under General Green; then at the Battle of Guilford, March 15, 1781. He married Sarah Dudley (1767-_); children: Jane b. 1801, Cornelius b. 1804, Harriet b. 1807 and Elizabeth b. 1810. He told of peace being declared between the U.S. & Great Britain June 1783, and that he had a choice between returning home to Montgomery Co., Maryland either by land or by sea. He chose the former, and, as a consequence of his commander being absent, did not receive a proper discharge. He is credited with an enlistment of three years and four months. It is believed that he accompanied or followed the Dudley migration to the vicinity of Springfield, Ohio about 1804; and there is a possibility that he moved to Indiana in a second migration of the John Dudley family. He died on August 6, 1833 in Indiana, Lafayette Free Press on Monday, August 24, 1833 "Died-on the 6th instant, at his residence in this county, Cornelius MORRIS, aged about 78 years. The deceased, formerly a resident of Clark County, Ohio, had but a few months since emigrated to this county. He was one of the Patriots of the Revolution, attached to the Southern army. It will be gratifying to Mr. MORRISs' distant friends, to know that, although his last illness was severe and protracted, he enjoyed that serenity of mind which in that trying hour is the peculiar privilege of the Christian and buried at Saint Bernard Cemetery, Springfield, Clark County, Ohio.
