GIBSON, WILLIAM (Tuscarawas County) [40.639586 -81.455061]

Birth site and Date is unknown He served as a Private in the 13th Virginia Regiment in Colonel Campbell's Company commanded by Colonel John Gibson for at least October to February 1779 in OH. He died on February 23, 1779 with a group who were ambushed while gathering firewood at Fort Laurens and killed by Indians under the command of the British. The Americans completed the construction of Fort Laurens—named after Henry Laurens, president of the Continental Congress—in early December 1778 under the command of General Lachlan McIntosh. The fort, built on the west bank of the Tuscarawas River was to serve three purposes. First, the Americans hoped to use Fort Laurens as a base to attack the British garrison located at Detroit. Second, it would hopefully deter American Indians loyal to the British from conducting raids against American settlers in eastern Ohio and western Pennsylvania. And finally, by offering protection to the neutral Christian Delaware's, the Americans might convince them to forsake their neutrality and join the patriots' cause.
In total, 21 soldiers lost their lives at Fort Laurens after a handful of British soldiers and a couple hundred Wyandot, Mingo, Munsee, and Delaware warriors laid siege to the fort before it was abandoned in 1779. Later, part of the fort was demolished during the building of the Ohio and Erie Canal. Currently none of the original fort remains above ground, but the outline of the fort is visible.

He Died at 73 years of age on Apr 11, 1832, Marietta, OH and Buried at Mound Cemetery, 5th & Scammel Sts., Marietta, OH 45750. Cemetery Notes: The Mound Cemetery was established in 1801 by the citizens of Marietta, Ohio, to preserve an Ohio Hopewell burial mound dating from 100 BC to 500 AD, and provide for settler burials. After the Revolutionary War, the area along the Ohio River and Marietta attracted many veterans rewarded with land grants. General Rufus Putnam donated land for the cemetery. The cemetery is thought to have the largest number of Revolutionary War Officer burials, among other important Ohio River pioneer settlers and Northwest Territory politicians. Burials continue to today despite the limited space. HATHORN, (HARTHORN) JAMES, (Hamilton Co.) [39.1678132 -84.5324801]

Br 1739, Lancaster County, Pa. He was commissioned as a 2nd Lt., in the 5th Battalion of Pennsylvania Continental army on August 7, 1775, at Strausburg, Lancaster County, PA. He was in the battle of White Plains where he was wounded in his left high. He marched to New York City but arrived too late to participate in the battles, from there he retreated to New Jersey, and was discharged at Morristown, New Jersey. He then traveled on frozen feet to New Brunswick, where he was ordered to protect the surrounding area from hostile Indians. He Mar twice. He moved from Lancaster County, PA to Virginia, to North Carolina, back to Virginia. In 1827 he moved to College Hill, Hamilton County, Ohio. On August 14, 1832 he was living in Millcreek, Ham., Co., when he applied for a pension. D March 23, 1835 He died in his two-story log cabin March 23, 1835 at age 88. He was buried under a cherry tree on his property, This property was acquired years later by John M. Wilson, Esq. Hathorn's remains were moved, probably before the property was sold out of the family, and reburied in 1855 to the Lane Seminary Cemetery and were again moved to Spring Grove Cemetery in 1878 where he rests next to his wife, Elizabeth, and son-in-law Isaac B. Perrine. Hathorn was twice married and had 14 children. James Hathorn was a farmer, land trader and a businessman. He bought, sold, and sometimes lost, land parcels in the various states he resided. When he settled in College Hill he purchased 2.75 acres from the property once owned by David Thomas (Hamilton Avenue and Windermere Way). David Thomas, whose chair manufacturing business failed, sold his land to Asa Newton, who in turn sold the land to Hathorn. Isaac Perrine, when the property came into his hands, used it as a boarding house, for in the 1840 census, 31 people were living there. Two houses away, Alison Grant also seems to be running a boarding house as he had 22 people in residence. When this house was bought by John Wilson and later came to Obed J. Wilson, this log cabin was the core of the familiar white house sitting on the hill that was torn down in the 1970's. The property is part of Twin Towers Retirement Community. Served in Revolutionary War. Bur first in the Lane Cemetery, then to Spring Grove Cem., Lot A, Sec. 14. No stone. Ref : S. A. R. Seth Hayes - had been here before, but the family came this year, and probably occupied the bark cabin, which Col. Beard had left. They came originally from Russell, Hampshire, Massachusetts. Kirtland mentions, under date of August 2, 1799, giving Hayes an order for $170, to get mill irons, and that, August 17th, Moss returned from Fort McIntosh with mill irons. Riddle says, Hayes bought them at the new works in Pittsburgh, and boated them up the Big Beaver. Moss met him with an ox cart. Probably the cart was Clark's wagon. Ira and Enos were children with the family. When a log house had been built on lot 14, north of the road leading west from Gilum Hotchkiss', and on the high bank west of Hopson's creek, they moved in. The barn across the road, south, was built in 1810. Lorin, Olive, Betsey, Marilla, Martin and Riley, were born in Burton, making 8 children. He was a strong man, and a hunter that could pick his game from under cover, by surprise -- or fight. Seth his wife and three of their children died in an epidemic during the winter of 1815/1816 and Buried first on private property. HAYS, TIMOTHY (Tuscarawas County) [40.639586 -81.455061]

Birth site and Date is unknown He served as a Private in the 13th Virginia Regiment in Colonel Campbell's Company commanded by Colonel John Gibson for at least October to February 1779 in OH. He died on February 23, 1779 with a group who were ambushed while gathering firewood at Fort Laurens and killed by Indians under the command of the British. The Americans completed the construction of Fort Laurens—named after Henry Laurens, president of the Continental Congress—in early December 1778 under the command of General Lachlan McIntosh. The fort, built on the west bank of the Tuscarawas River was to serve three purposes. First, the Americans hoped to use Fort Laurens as a base to attack the British garrison located at Detroit. Second, it would hopefully deter American Indians loyal to the British from conducting raids against American settlers in eastern Ohio and western Pennsylvania. And finally, by offering protection to the neutral Christian Delaware's, the Americans might convince them to forsake their neutrality and join the patriots' cause.
In total, 21 soldiers lost their lives at Fort Laurens after a handful of British soldiers and a couple hundred Wyandot, Mingo, Munsee, and Delaware warriors laid siege to the fort before it was abandoned in 1779. Later, part of the fort was demolished during the building of the Ohio and Erie Canal. Currently none of the original fort remains above ground, but the outline of the fort is visible.

His enlistment was for the duration of the war and he would serve over five years. His commanding officer, Major (later Lt. Colonel) Henry Lee, was the legendary "Light Horse Harry" Lee, known for his daring against the enemy and George Washington's favorite cavalry officer. Light Horse Harry's Legion would garner fame for its aggressive tactics combining cavalry and infantry, and for its prowess in battle and raiding from New York to Georgia, particularly in the southern campaign of 1781 against Lord Cornwallis. According to army pay records and muster rolls, George Hill served as a farrier for Second Troop during his first year, but by the summer of 1780 he was serving as a light dragoon. He was promoted to corporal in May, 1783 and was detached from active service on June 19, 1783. He was present for a final muster in July, 1784. In muster rolls and in his promotion to corporal, George Hill's name often appears next to another dragoon named John Manly, also from Cecil County, Maryland. Their names would appear together in many instances during and after the war. Both were awarded land bounties of 50 acres each from the state of Maryland for their services in the Revolution, and also land bounties of 100 acres each in the Military Land District of the Northwest Territory soon to become the state of Ohio. On May 23, 1789 George Hill married John's sister, Elizabeth Manly, and they settled in Cecil County. They had two sons, William and Jonathan. The Hill and Manly families would travel to Ohio in 1804 and settle on 320 acres in the Congressional Land District administered by the Chillicothe Land Office. They would be among the first settlers of Walnut Township in Fairfield County according to a letter written in 1877 by Joseph G. Wiseman, an early resident of New Salem. Both George Hill and John Manly are acknowledged in the letter as veterans of the Revolution and Lee's Legion of Horse. On February 27, 1814 George Hill died at the age of 56. Before he passed, George acquired his friend's debt, and it appears in the listing of debts on George Hill's estate in Fairfield County Probate Court records: "From John Manly (estate of) in note $197.28." HODDY (HOBDAY), RICHARD (Ross County) [39.4075 -83.1928]

Born in 1759 in Gloucester County, Virginia. He served as a sergeant in Captain Lipcomb's and Captain Henry Young's Companies in Colonel Alexander McClenachan's 7th Virginia Regiment, he is listed as /HOBDAY) an "Artificer" and "Sgt. of Cav." variously of units of the 7th , 11th and 15th Continental Line (Virginia). He married 1) Mary __ , 2) Jane __ (1775-_) in Harpers Ferry. Virginia in 1799; children: #1Robert b. 1783 and #2 Keziah b. 1801. He migrated to the Scioto Va1ley from Harpers Ferry in 1796 and died

in1830 near Frankfort. Concord Township. Ross County. Ohio. Burial is unknown but a memorial stone commemorating his service has been placed in the Greenlawn Cemetery in Frankfort. Ohio. Richard Hoddy, father of Robert, was a Revolutionary soldier. Chillicothe boasted of but one cabin when Richard Hoddy landed there. Two thousand Indians, from Oldtown, were encamped on the bank of the Scioto, where the upper bridge now spans the river. Richard Hoddy entered five hundred acres of land on Paint creek, four miles below Oldtown, and there erected the first grist mill and saw mill in the valley. He died on his farm in 1830. On the death of his father Captain Hoddy succeeded to the business, and added a distillery to the diversified milling interests, though it is understood that the distillery business was taken up many years before the father's death, since it is mentioned in the "Pioneer Record of Ross County" as the "first distillery in the valley." Captain Robert Hoddy served as adjutant under Col. William Clark during the war of 1812. He was also commander of the post where British prisoners were confined after the war, holding that position until they were released. In civil life, he served as land appraiser, assessor and tax collector of Concord township; and in every phase of his eventful life he deported himself and discharged his varied duties with great honor to himself and satisfaction to his constituency. Captain Hoddy married. Elizabeth, daughter of Peter Putnam, who was also a very early settler of the Paint creek valley, coming from Hampshire county, VA, in 1809. Peter Putnam was a lineal descendant of the same stock which furnished us such men as Gens. Israel and Rufus Putnam. Both the Hoddy and Putnam families have many descendants in Ross county at the present day. .DAR Patriot Index, Part II, p. 1443; Historical Register of Virginians in the Revolution, p. 381; Official Roster of Revolutionary Soldiers in Ohio, Vol. 2, p. 178; Pioneers of Ross County, Ohio, p. 125; Revolutionary War Records, p. 205 & 243; State Centennial History, Vol. 2, p. 255. 56th-77th Annual Reports DAR. HOLE, DR. JOHN, (Montgomery Co.) [39.63675 -84.15797]

Born on April 30, 1754 in Newark, Essex, NJ or VA. Parents : Youngest of 11 children of Jacob Hole, a grandson of Daniel Hole who came from England and settled in New York late in the 17th century. Commissioned Asst Surgeon and was at Bunker Hill. Was at Cambridge when the army was reorganized by Gen Washington. Appointed Assistant Surgeon in Col McGaw's 5th Battalion at the Battle of Bunker Hill. Was a regular Surgeon with Generals Montgomery and arnold at the Battle of Quebec and saw Gen Montgomery killed. Was on medical staff of Gen Richard Montgomery at Quebec, where for want of lights he dressed the wounds of soldiers beneath the walls of the fort by the flashes of muskets and cannon. Went with the first VA Militia to Mass and continued in service until the close of war. He Married 1) Hannah Clark, 2) Massie Ludlow, of N. J. Aug 14, 1778. (Br Feb 28, 1759, D July 25, 1842); Children: Jane, Elizabeth, John Ludlow, Nancy, Jeremiah, Elizabeth, David, Matilda, Phebe, Mary, William, Polly. He Died on January 6, 1813, Washington Twp, Montgomery Co, OH and Buried at Sugar Creek Baptist Cemetery, Old Centerville Plot, N. Main Street, Centerville, Montgomery Co., OH 45459. on ridge in center of cem near other Revolutionary soldiers. MI : "A large chiseled weeping willow tree. Dr. John Hole, died January 6, 1813, in the 58th year of his life." His wife is buried at his side. GM Richard Montgomery Chap, S. A. R., with official bronze Montgomery Co marker July 1, 1919. In 1796 he moved west in covered wagon and located at Cincinnati, but after prospecting up the Miami Valley in 1797 he moved his family to Silver Creek where he finally (about 1799) located 1440 acres of land, paying for it in military bounty land warrants for his Revolutionary services. He came fr a family of Baptists and was the first person baptized in Silver Creek. Here he built his cabin and reared his family of six children. The creek was renamed "Hole's Creek" and retains the name at this time. His long army service indicates that he was the peer of his contemporaries in the medical profession. Traditions of the neighborhood testify that his pretentious log cabin was long the center of pioneer hospitality and culture. He was the first physician in the locality, and although his practice extended over many miles of territory he found time to build and run two mills south of Dayton. He received his literary and medical training in Germany where he was sent in 1766. Socially he entertained Washington, Jefferson, and the best, socially, in the Revolutionary times in his NJ home. It was at the suggestion of Dr. Hole that this county was named "Montgomery" for Gen Richard Montgomery, who fell mortally wounded at Quebec, while leading his troops on Dec 31, 1775. ILES (ISLES or OILES), HENRY (Licking County) [40.253642 -82.555606]

Born on December 21,1749 in England. Served in the Revolutionary War, Taken as a prisoner of war in New York. Through his kindness to the prison guards, he obtained their good will, and they enabled to make his escape on foot. In Rockingham County, Virginia he married Mary M. Stine (1763-1832); children: John b. 1784, Henry b. 1786, Elizabeth b. 1787, Jacob b.1791, Adam b. 1795, Fredrick b. 1793, David b. 1797, Samuel b. 1799, Sarah b. 1804 & George b. 1803. He was a tailor. He Died on December 21, 1814 at the age of 56 years and Buried at Isles Family Cemetery, Homer, Bennington Twp., Licking Co., OH. Cemetery notes and/or description: Small family cemetery on land formerly part of the family's farm acquired about 1802. It is located entirely in Bennington Township, Licking County, Ohio, near the town of Homer. The stones and their inscriptions were documented for the Licking County Genealogy Society and published in a typewritten, photocopied document which is available in a binder at the Homer Public Library. The single page describes inscriptions from Isles, Spicer, and Mead Cemeteries. This documentation occurred prior to 1976. Some items in the binder refer to previous surveys from the 1930s and before. This item is not dated or otherwise identified. At the time of the survey, the cemetery was surrounded by an iron fence. The cemetery is near County Road 2 between the township line and Bennington Chapel. Plant growth obscures the view from the road and satellite map. Certified by the Licking County Genealogical Society as the member of a "First Family of Licking Co., OH.

Note: Henry's surname is sometimes given an alternate spelling of "Iles" on old records not generated by the family. Later generations, however, sometimes adopted the "Iles" spelling. Although there is no absolute evidence for an alternative history, some students of genealogy of Hessian troops who fought in the Revolution believe Henry could be one Johann Henrich Eyl from Schorbach, Germany. They support this view with records of Eyl's military service in Germany, being among the prisoners taken by Washington's army, and inclusion on a roster as a deserter from Long Island, NY, on Oct. 31, 1782. Further argument is made that one Henry Oill swore an oath of allegiance in Philadelphia on Nov. 5, 1782. In comparison, two of Henry Isle's children opted to spell their surname "Oiles." Persons from this camp speculate that Henry and his family suppressed information of their Hessian heritage to avoid fallout from propaganda which depicted Hessians as violent war criminals. Since this memorial is primarily to record the location of Henry Isles's final resting place, this additional information is included to facilitate the search under either name.

KELLER, JOHN (Clark County) [39.91808 -83.90147]

Born on January 11, 1758 in Lancaster Co., Pennsylvania to parents Sebastian Keller(1729-1808) & Karoline Rosina Siber (1735-1765). He was called into service in July, 1776 as a private in Capt. George Gantz' Co. of Col. Bartram Gilbraith's Regt. of Penn. militia, to serve for three months.. His Co. assembled at Lancaster, Pa. and marched to Phila- delphia where they boarded a small ship going to Trenton, New Jersey, upon arrival they immediately marched to Perth-Amboy, N. J. The first night of the march they were quartered in houses that were deserted by British sympathizers. During their two week stay at Amboy they were harassed by enemy cannon fire and were forced to take shelter in trenches near the river. They marched to Bergen, N. J. that was in sight of New York. He served the balance of his three months tour here and was able to hear the cannon firing at the Battle of Long Island. Capt. Gantz' Company did not see action, but were held to protect that section of the Jersey shore. John Kellar was called up for service the second time in October 1777 for two months in Capt. Martin Earhart's Co., also of Col. Bartram Gil- braith's Regt. of Penn. militia. He was assigned to guard the powder magazine at Lebanon, PA. The Company wasn't relieved and were forced to spend another month on duty, John was discharged in January, 1778. He was married 1778-1781 to Phoebe Steckley who was born in Switzerland; children: Salome b. 1782, Mary b. 1783, John b. 1785, Christina b. 1799 and Anna b. 1800.
The Kellar family moved from Lancaster Co. in 1790 to the Shenandoah Valley, near Salem in Botetourt Co., Va. They lived there until 1809, when they moved to Ohio. Records indicate that they lived for short time in Hamilton County before coming to Clark Co., Ohio where he spent the rest of his life of more than thirty years. He purchased fifty acres of farm land, Sec. 34, T.4 R.9 as shown in tax records of 1826 for Clark Co., Ohio. He applied for military pension in 1833 and was awarded $20.00 per annum, payable from 4 March 1831, under pension certificate 22378. The last payment made prior to his death was receipted 4 March 1837, indicating his death occurred after that date and prior to 4 Sept. 1837 when it was due, but never paid.

KIRTLAND, TURHAND, (Mahoning Co.) [41.01913 -80.60926]

Born on November 16, 1753 or 55 in Wallingford, Connecticut to parents Constant (1727-1792) and Rachael __Kirtland (1732-1812). Served as a Capt Conn State Troops, also in Provisional serv of N.Y. at the time of the defeat of the Amer Army. Was engaged on the boat that convoyed the army form Long Island over to the mainland. He Married Mary Potter (1772-1850); Children: Dr. Jared P, Henry, Billius, George, Mary P, Charles & Nancy. Turhand, of the fifth generation of Kirtlands in this country, was one of the proprietors of the Connecticut Land Company in the purchase of the Western Reserve from the mother state.In the first draft of the Company in 1798, he, with several others, under the name of Caleb Atwater, drew the township of Mecca and part of the township of Auburn, and in company with Messrs. Benjamin Doolittle, Samuel Doolittle, Seth Hart, Win. Law, Andrew Hull, Titus Street, Levi Tomlinson and Daniel Holbrook,under the name of Benjamin Doolittle, he drew the townships of Poland and Burton,and over two thousand acres in Kirtland, as well as many minor amounts in other townships. Three months after this draft, April 1798, he set out with his party of surveyors and settlers upon the arduous journey to the Northwest Territory, where lay these new possessions, and each succeeding summer he returned, until 1803,when his family accompanied him and he settled in Poland.

For many years he acted as agent for the Connecticut Land Company, and, until he retired from active business in 1834, he had charge of the greater part of the lands of those proprietors of the Connecticut Land Company who resided in the East.He took a prominent part in the affairs of the Reserve, establishing Libraries and schools; as early as 1805 he had secured sufficient funds from the settlers to purchase a fine library for Poland, and this library was kept abreast of the times as long as he lived. He was one of the first to urge the necessity of a western college and he contributed most generously both in time and money to that institution which eventually became the Western Reserve College.
Turhand Kirtland was elected State Senator for Trumbull County in 18 14; he was Associate Judge of the Court of Common Pleas for several terms, and was Justice of the Peace in Poland for over twenty years. The Diary, relating his early experiences in New Connecticut, ends abruptly inthe fall of 1800. Presumably the remaining pages have been lost in the hundred and more years intervening, but enough remains to show the unflagging energy and indomitable perseverance of the man—no complaints, no regrets, no maligning, but a steady pushing forward amid the untold trials and privations of those pioneer days.The imprint for good, Judge Kirtland has left upon the character of the Western Reserve, will be felt for many succeeding generations."

LOWMAN, GEORGE (Clark County) [39.9323 -84.0005]

Born on July 23, 1765 in Berkley County, Virginia to parents George (1722-1800) and Mary (1733-1826) Lowman. George Lowman served as a Private in the 3rd Company of the 1st Battalion of the Cumberland County, Pennsylvania Militia, first commanded by Capt. Noah Abraham of Path Valley and later by Capt. Wm. Berryhill. Fifteen year old George was enrolled in the 7th Class of the 3rd Company. The marriage of George Lowman to Susannah Hermon (1772-1849) reportedly occurred in 1792, a date generally substantiated by the 15 Sept. 1793 birth- date of their first child. Susannah is buried in the Heck-Funderburg burying ground in Bethel Twp., Clark Co., Ohio; children: Elizabeth b. 1793, Joseph b. 1794, Mary b. 1796, David b. 1798, John b. 1800, Catherine b. 1802, Susannah b. 1804, Samuel b. 1806, George b. 1809, Abraham b. 1811, Harmon b. 1813, James b. 1815 and Eva b. 1819. Presumably they began their married life in Virginia, then moved to Pennsylvania sometime before the federal census of 1800, which enumerated them in Adams County.Later that year, George inherited a three-quarter interest in his father's farm and became executor of his father's estate.This estate was not settled until about 1805, after which George reportedly moved south into Rockbridge County, Virginia.Within four or five years he moved again.After selling the Pennsylvania farm in 1810, George took his large family, including his mother Mary, to Ohio and settled in Champaign (after 1818 Clark) County, where he and Susannah lived out the rest of their lives. George moved his family and his widowed mother to Ohio in 1810 and became early settlers in Champaign (after 1818 Clark County) settled on a farm of 322 acres in Bethel Township of Clark County, section 23. George Lowman died August 21, 1848 and is buried in the Funderburg Cemetery, New Carlisle, Clark County, Ohio next to his wife and his mother. References: Penn. McCLEAVE, GEORGE (Clark County) [39.926657 -83.813319]

Born in Maryland or Ireland in 1751. He served in the Chester County, Pennsylvania Militia in 1780, 8th Class, 3rd Company, 6th Battalion commanded by Lt. Colonel Davis, He was called again into service in the forepart of the year 1781, and later that same year, He served a total of three times with the Chester County Militia. He married ___ ; children Elizabeth, John, Benjamin b. 1782 and Mary. The McCleave family emigrated to Ohio and settled on the Big Miami River near Colerain about 1790. George McCleave was a tall man and of good personal appearance; a shoemaker by trade, which he learned in Philadelphia. Shortly after their arrival in Ohio, the mother died, leaving George with help from his oldest daughter, Elizabeth, to care for the remaining children. In the year 1791, several hundred Indians led by Simon Girty, besieged the garrison at Colerain where the McCleaves lived, and Elizabeth with the other women of the place did her part in defending the fort by moulding bullets for the men who kept up a vigorous fight until relieved by a rescue party from Ft. Washington.
Elizabeth McCleave (1780-1849) married on August 22, 1801 Samuel Smith son of Dr. Peter Smith and Catherine Stout Smith, and had thirteen children. The Smith family moved to Clark County Ohio, and eventually settled near Donnels Creek.
Mary McCleave married in 1818 Nathan Reddish, a widower with five children. They settled east of Springfield, Ohio. Mary died sometime before 1826.
John McCleave (1778-1846) the eldest son, left Colerain on the Miami in the year 1803, moved to Indiana, later to the Illinois territory by 1819. John married in 1801 Mary Benfiel, daughter of Col. John Benfiel, and had eight children. Benjamin McCleave and his first wife, Rachel, had three children. He married his second wife March 12, 1816 in Butler County, Ohio. She was Margaret (Kennedy) Craven, a widow with five children of the Revolutionary soldier John Craven. Benjamin and Margaret had five children of this union. Benjamin McCleave left the Ohio territory in 1819 and moved to Illinois with his family, taking his father, George, then advanced in years. After staying with his sons about two years, working at his trade of shoemaking, the old gentleman became dissatisfied and decided to return to Ohio. His sons, John and Benjamin, procured a horse, saddle, and bridle for him and he rode through to Ohio by himself. He safely reached his destination (Clark County, Ohio) where he spent his last days at the homes of his daughters, Elizabeth (McCleave) Smith near Donnelsville and Mary (McCleave) Reddish near Springfield. He died in 1824 and buried at the old graveyard on Columbia Street: Columbia Street Cemetery, Row 9 – Grave 18,

McCLURKIN, MATHEW, (Preble Co.) [39.58470 -84.72080]

Born 1761 in Ireland. He served in the Revolutionary War, Matthew, and three of his brothers (John, Thomas and Archibald), served in the Revolutionary War. From his pension file, we learn that Matthew was living in Chester County, South Carolina when he volunteered in the spring of 1780. He served under the Command of Lieutenant Houston and Colonel Sumter. His service began at Indian Lands near the Catawba River, A small company of volunteers marched from Indian Lands to a place called Hanging Rock near the Catawba River, where early in the morning they attacked and defeated a company of Tories who were commanded by Colonel Bryan. The British soldiers were encamped about half a mile away and they made an attack on the volunteers who held their ground until evening. Then the volunteers left and marched to Bigger's Ferry on the Catawba River. At this place, the volunteers were attacked by the British forces and Matthew was severely wounded in the head and taken prisoner by the British troops. He and the other prisoners were taken to Charlotte in North Carolina, and confined in jail. Then they were sent to Camden in South Carolina and there confined in a prison for about 10 weeks. Then he was sent to Charleston to be put aboard a prison ship. On the way, about 16 miles from Camden, he and the other prisoners overpowered the guard and made their escape. About 2 weeks after his escape he again entered the service as a volunteer under Colonel Sumter. This time, the volunteers took a British Garrison about 3 miles south of the Congaree River at Thompson's Plantation (Calhoun County). Matthew continued in the service for some time with Colonel Sumter in the south part of South Carolina. He was again taken prisoner by the British and was sent to Camden and confined as a prisoner until he obtained a parole from the British and returned to Chester. He married Jennet McClurkin about 1786; children: Catharine, Joseph, James, John, Jane, Agnes & Elizabeth. Jennet McClurkin was the daughter of James McClurkin Sr. and Mary. Jennet was born about 1766 in Ballymena, Co. Antrim, Ireland. She was a passenger on the Lord Dunlace that arrived in Charlestown December 20, 1772.

Cemetery notes and/or description: Crabapple Church and Cemetery are located in Wheeling Township, Belmont CO., OH, about two miles south of New Athens and a short distance north of Uniontown. The first nucleus of the Crabapple Presbyterian Church was gathered as early as 1799 by Rev. Joseph Anderson. It's one of the oldest cemeteries in the county and is near the Harrison County, border. It is on Zeyer Rd., CR 96, north of Uniontown, off SR 9, in an area of reclaimed strip mines. The original Presbyterian Church here was the first and largest in Wheeling Township. In 1803 Robert and William McCullough helped to organize the church. The first sermon was preached by Rev. John Rea, to a congregation of forty members, which included the McCulloughs, McKibbons, Campbells, Snedekers, Brokaws and Merritts. Crabapple Cemetery is also known as Crabapple Presbyterian Church Cemetery. The cemetery is 3.27 acres and dates from 1806. The cemetery is well kept but many of the stones are no longer readable. McCURDEN, HUGH (Tuscarawas County) [40.639586 -81.455061]

Birth site and Date is unknown He served as a Private in the 13th Virginia Regiment in Colonel Campbell's Company commanded by Colonel John Gibson for at least October to February 1779 in OH. He died on February 23, 1779 with a group who were ambushed while gathering firewood at Fort Laurens and killed by Indians under the command of the British. The Americans completed the construction of Fort Laurens—named after Henry Laurens, president of the Continental Congress—in early December 1778 under the command of General Lachlan McIntosh. The fort, built on the west bank of the Tuscarawas River was to serve three purposes. First, the Americans hoped to use Fort Laurens as a base to attack the British garrison located at Detroit. Second, it would hopefully deter American Indians loyal to the British from conducting raids against American settlers in eastern Ohio and western Pennsylvania. And finally, by offering protection to the neutral Christian Delaware's, the Americans might convince them to forsake their neutrality and join the patriots' cause.
In total, 21 soldiers lost their lives at Fort Laurens after a handful of British soldiers and a couple hundred Wyandot, Mingo, Munsee, and Delaware warriors laid siege to the fort before it was abandoned in 1779. Later, part of the fort was demolished during the building of the Ohio and Erie Canal. Currently none of the original fort remains above ground, but the outline of the fort is visible.

MORRIS, CORNELIUS (Clark County) [39.952799 -83.811140]

Born on October 2, 1759 in Maryland. He served as a private in Capt. Lloyd Bell's Co., Maryland. He enlisted as a soldier in the service of the United States on Continental Establishment in the State of Maryland in the year 1779 or 80, Cornelius joined the army at Annapolis in the regiment commanded (he thought) by Col. John Stewart. He marched from Maryland to Virginia under the command of General Gates, through the Carolinas, was in General Gates' defeat at Gum Swamp; he was also at the Battle of Camden under General Green; then at the Battle of Guilford, March 15, 1781. He married Sarah Dudley (1767-_); children: Jane b. 1801, Cornelius b. 1804, Harriet b. 1807 and Elizabeth b. 1810. He told of peace being declared between the U.S. & Great Britain June 1783, and that he had a choice between returning home to Montgomery Co., Maryland either by land or by sea. He chose the former, and, as a consequence of his commander being absent, did not receive a proper discharge. He is credited with an enlistment of three years and four months. It is believed that he accompanied or followed the Dudley migration to the vicinity of Springfield, Ohio about 1804; and there is a possibility that he moved to Indiana in a second migration of the John Dudley family. He died on August 6, 1833 in Indiana, Lafayette Free Press on Monday, August 24, 1833 "Died-on the 6th instant, at his residence in this county, Cornelius MORRIS, aged about 78 years. NASH, JOHN THOMAS (Tuscarawas County) [40.639586 -81.455061]

Birth site and Date is unknown He served as a Private in the 13th Virginia Regiment in Colonel Campbell's Company commanded by Colonel John Gibson for at least October to February 1779 in OH. He died on February 23, 1779 with a group who were ambushed while gathering firewood at Fort Laurens and killed by Indians under the command of the British. The Americans completed the construction of Fort Laurens—named after Henry Laurens, president of the Continental Congress—in early December 1778 under the command of General Lachlan McIntosh. The fort, built on the west bank of the Tuscarawas River was to serve three purposes. First, the Americans hoped to use Fort Laurens as a base to attack the British garrison located at Detroit. Second, it would hopefully deter American Indians loyal to the British from conducting raids against American settlers in eastern Ohio and western Pennsylvania. And finally, by offering protection to the neutral Christian Delaware's, the Americans might convince them to forsake their neutrality and join the patriots' cause.
In total, 21 soldiers lost their lives at Fort Laurens after a handful of British soldiers and a couple hundred Wyandot, Mingo, Munsee, and Delaware warriors laid siege to the fort before it was abandoned in 1779. Later, part of the fort was demolished during the building of the Ohio and Erie Canal. Currently none of the original fort remains above ground, but the outline of the fort is visible.

OSBORN, GEORGE (Tuscarawas County) [40.639586 -81.455061]

Born in 1758 in Agusta County, Virginia (now WVA) to parents George and Hannah Osburn. He served as a Private in the 13th Virginia Regiment in Colonel Campbell's Company commanded by Colonel John Gibson for at least October to February 1779 in OH. He died on February 23, 1779 with a group who were ambushed while gathering firewood at Fort Laurens and killed by Indians under the command of the British. The Americans completed the construction of Fort Laurens—named after Henry Laurens, president of the Continental Congress—in early December 1778 under the command of General Lachlan McIntosh. The fort, built on the west bank of the Tuscarawas River was to serve three purposes. First, the Americans hoped to use Fort Laurens as a base to attack the British garrison located at Detroit. Second, it would hopefully deter American Indians loyal to the British from conducting raids against American settlers in eastern Ohio and western Pennsylvania. And finally, by offering protection to the neutral Christian Delaware's, the Americans might convince them to forsake their neutrality and join the patriots' cause.
In total, 21 soldiers lost their lives at Fort Laurens after a handful of British soldiers and a couple hundred Wyandot, Mingo, Munsee, and Delaware warriors laid siege to the fort before it was abandoned in 1779. Later, part of the fort was demolished during the building of the Ohio and Erie Canal. Currently none of the original fort remains above ground, but the outline of the fort is visible.

PARKER, SAMUEL, (Ashtabula County) [41.85250 -80.61080]

Born on January 10, 1750 Wallingford, New Haven, Connecticut. He served in the Revolutionary War his Connecticut troops were in the siege of Saint John, not far from Montreal, September to November 1775, when the British surrendered and St. John was taken, and soon Montreal. These men enlisted for six months, and when their enlistment was up, winter was coming on and many had died from sickness, and many had returned. They had a tough time. The plan was to capture Canada - Quebec remained, and Benedict Arnold was approaching through Maine to join up with General Montgomery, who commanded the troops Samuel Parker was with and who had already taken Montreal. They had a lot of trouble - surrounded Quebec and finally attacked and General Montgomery was killed. Samuel Parker was a wheelwright by trade, making spinning wheels. It was the habit of soldiers of the American Revolution to enlist in the spring and go home in the fall as there was not much fighting during the winter months - thus, Captain Asa Jones enlisted for six months during nearly every year of the Revolution, and Jared Parker married his daughter, Betsy Jones. Captain Jones lived, in later years, at Greene, New York. It is noted that Samuel Parker at one time lived there also and later emigrated to various points west in New York and finally into Ohio. It is probable that Jared Parker, his son, was with him for there is a record in the recorder's office that Jared Parker bought two acres of land in Scipio and sold it about two years later. Evidently they did not live long at Scipio. He married Hanah Bunnell (1756-1835); children: William, Jarad, . PARKS, JAMES, LT. (Tuscarawas County) [40.639586 -81.455061]

Birth site and Date is unknown He served as a Private in the 13th Virginia Regiment in Colonel Campbell's Company commanded by Colonel John Gibson for at least October to February 1779 in OH. He died on February 23, 1779 with a group who were ambushed while gathering firewood at Fort Laurens and killed by Indians under the command of the British. The Americans completed the construction of Fort Laurens—named after Henry Laurens, president of the Continental Congress—in early December 1778 under the command of General Lachlan McIntosh. The fort, built on the west bank of the Tuscarawas River was to serve three purposes. First, the Americans hoped to use Fort Laurens as a base to attack the British garrison located at Detroit. Second, it would hopefully deter American Indians loyal to the British from conducting raids against American settlers in eastern Ohio and western Pennsylvania. And finally, by offering protection to the neutral Christian Delaware's, the Americans might convince them to forsake their neutrality and join the patriots' cause.

In total, 21 soldiers lost their lives at Fort Laurens after a handful of British soldiers and a couple hundred Wyandot, Mingo, Munsee, and Delaware warriors laid siege to the fort before it was abandoned in 1779. Later, part of the fort was demolished during the building of the Ohio and Erie Canal. Currently none of the original fort remains above ground, but the outline of the fort is visible.

PATTERSON, JOHN, (Preble County) [39.60325 -84.76068]

Born January, 1763 in Ireland son of Samuel & Mary Patterson. He served in the Revolutionary War in South Carolina and Captain Cowan's Company of militia of Col Reed's Regiment and General Williamson's [Andrew Williamson's] Brigade. He was with Col Clarke when he took possession of Augusta, but was soon driven away by the British, they continued on this tour until after the Battle of Kings Mountain on the 7th of October 1780 in South Carolina. Pension application # S17626. He married Mary Chambers (1764-1824); children: Samuel b. 1804. The State of Ohio Preble County Court of Common Pleas September Term 1832 On this 18th day of September in the year of our Lord 1832 personally appeared before the honorable the Judges of the Court of Common Pleas in and for the County of Preble in the State of Ohio John Patterson aged sixty nine years a resident of the County aforesaid who being first duly sworn according to law doth on his oath make the following declaration in order to obtain the benefit of the act of Congress passed June the 7th 1832. That in the month of August 1778 he entered the service of the United States as a substitute for his father Samuel Patterson in 96 district South Carolina and Captain Cowan's Company of militia of Col Reed's Regiment and General Williamson's [Andrew Williamson's] Brigade. The force rendezvoused at Beaverdam Creek in Georgia deponent served on this tour three months during which time he was engaged in defending the country against the aggression of the Cherokees at the end of the three months he received a written discharge signed by Lieutenant Davis who at that time had command of the company in place of Captain Cowan during this tour deponent assisted to destroy the corn of the Indians and to burn seven Indian towns. In April 1780 deponent was drafted to go to Charleston under Captain Cowan who then belonged to Col Pikens' [sic, Andrew Pickens'] Regiment, when this draft had proceeded about eighty miles on the way to Charleston they were met by an express informing them the city had surrendered. Col Pikins then marched his men to Camden, he was out on this tour about one month. In September of the same year deponent went to Soap Creek in Georgia and volunteered to serve in Captain Dun's [sic, Joseph Dunn's] company of Colonel Clark's [sic, Elijah Clarke's] Regiment. He was with Col Clarke when he took possession of the town of Augusta but was soon driven away by the British, he continued in the service on this tour until after the battle of King's Mountain which was on the seventh of October. After this battle the company under Captain Dunn dispersed being all volunteers for no definite time deponent with three others went to Mecklenburg County in North Carolina and remained with his friends until January 1781. When Lord Cornwallis commenced his march to Virginia deponent volunteered to serve for six weeks in a light horse company under the command of Captain Grimes of Col Irwin's [?] Regiment he was engaged in guarding the forts on the Catawba River about one week, he was then marched to Guilford Court house. Near Guilford his company joined the forces under General Green [sic, Nathanael Greene]. During this tour he was engaged in several skirmishes with the British but was in no general engagement. At the end of the six weeks for which he had volunteered he received a written discharge from Captain Grimes in March 1781. In the summer of 1781 he enlisted in the State troops of South Carolina for 10 months in Captain Francis Moore's company of light horse, Col Middleton's Regiment and General Sumpter' [sic, Thomas Sumter's,] Brigade. In March 1782 when deponent's time expired was discharged by Captain Moore at Orangeburg on Edisto [River] to prove this ten months service he has procured the deposition of William Caldwell who served during the same ten months with deponent. Deponent knows of no witnesses living by whom he can prove the rest of his services but he has been long known to Rev. Alexander Porter, John Foster, David Macdill and others who reside in his neighborhood and by whom he can as he believes prove that he sustains a good character for truth and veracity and that he has always been reputed and believed in his neighborhood to have been a soldier of the revolution. The written discharges which deponent received from his officers have been lost. He has a written record of his age by which it appears that he was born in Ireland in January 1763. After the war deponent lived in South Carolina until the year Eighteen hundred and seven when he came to Preble County in the State of Ohio where he has since resided and still resides. He hereby relinquishes every claim whatever to a pension or annuity except the present and declares that his name is not on the pension roll of the agency of any state. Sworn to and subscribed the day and year foresaid.

S/ John Patterson, S/ J. C. Hawkins, Clerk [Alexander Porter, a clergyman, John Foster and David Macdill gave the standard supporting affidavit.]

Here is an obituary published for Michael PEARCE, published in the Ohio Statesman Newspaper: Another Patriot Gone June 4, 1838. Died, at his residence in Trenton, Butler County, Ohio, on Monday the 4th day of June inst. at 15 minutes before 3 o'clock, p.m. after a severe illness of nine days, Deacon MICHAEL PEARCE, in the 89th year of his age. He was born at Scotch Plains, Essex County, New Jersey, in August, 1749, and lived there many years, and married Phebe SQUIER, of the same place, by whom he had eleven children, ten of whom lived to be men and women, from which he has now living thirty-four Grand children, and fifteen Great Grand children. He has served as a Deacon of the Regular Baptist Church, more than forty years, and died as he lived, full and strong in the faith of the Gospel of Christ, and through grace was enabled to say in his dying hour, "Death has lost his sting, and the grave its victory." He was a firm friend to the liberties of his country, and bore arms to repel the tyranny of Britain, and his Democratic Republican principles were in perfect accordance with the old Jefferson school. He was eighteen years a merchant of Morris County, N. J., and with the Pioneers of the West, removed with his family to Cincinnati, in the summer of 1792, entered land in Butler Co., and removed on it in 1804, where he remained, until removed on it by death, to a better country--a City that hath foundations, whose Builder and Maker is God.

PLATTER, CHRISTIAN, (Ross Co.) [39.22839 -83.24604]

Born on November 15, 1760, Neuweiler, Germany son of Joseph (1723-1810) & Anna Barbara (1730-1810) Luickebiten. Revolutionary serv in PA. Christian was a lad of 5 years of age when his parents left the place of their nativity and came to America. The family settled somewhere in Frederic County, Maryland, where he grew into manhood. He would be 16 years old when the Colonies rebelled against the Mother County in 1776. That he, as well as his older brother, Peter, were soldiers of the Revolution. besides serving against the British in the war for independence, he was a Private in Captain Ross's company, in Col. Crawfords' expedition against the Indians in Ohio, when the battle of Sandusky was fought on the 4th and 5th of June in 1782. He would then have been 22 years of age, and the family of his father was living on the farm on Pigeon Creek, Washington, Pennsylvania. [The Crawford expedition, also known as the Sandusky expedition and Crawford's Defeat, was a 1782 campaign on the western front of the American Revolutionary War, and one of the final operations of the conflict. Led by Colonel William Crawford, the campaign's goal was to destroy enemy American Indian towns along the Sandusky River in the Ohio Country, with the hope of ending Indian attacks on American settlers being promulgated by British Rangers. The expedition was one in a long series of raids against enemy settlements which both sides had conducted throughout the war.

Crawford led about 500 volunteer militiamen, mostly from Pennsylvania, deep into American Indian territory, with the intention of surprising the Indians. The Indians (about 500) and their British allies from Detroit (about 100 Rangers) had already learned of the expedition, however, and gathered a force to oppose the Americans. After a day of indecisive fighting near the Sandusky towns, the Americans found themselves surrounded and attempted to retreat. The retreat turned into a rout, but most of the Americans managed to find their way back to Pennsylvania. About 70 Americans were killed; Indian and British losses were minimal.]

POE, ADAM, (Stark County) [40.78830 -81.60250]

Born 1747 Frederick Co Maryland to father George Jacob Poe (1717-1766). In 1772, Adam followed his older brother, Andrew, westward to a new settlement on Harmon's Creek, west of Pittsburgh, in Washington County, Pennsylvania. At this time Adam was 26 years old. On October 12, 1777, Adam married Elizabeth Matthews-Cochran. Adam Poe and his brother, Andrew, were well-known in frontier history as the famous Indian fighters throughout the area of Western Pennsylvania, Northeast Ohio and West Virginia, which is known as the tri-state area. Adam had the skill of a frontiersman and woodsman. Adam is referred to the Indian fighter, but was actually an Indian Spy/Scout along with others to watch the Indians to see what their plans were for attacking the white settlements. Adam served in the Revolutionary War and the War of 1812. He served as a Pvt with PA in the Revolutionary War and killed Big Foot Indian in 1781 at the mouth of Tomlinson's Run, Hancock Co., WVA. In the Fall of 1781, the Wyandot Indians had sent seven of its warriors across into the white settlers' settlement taking an old man prisoner and taking what they could with them. The Poe brothers and some other men pursued after the Indians where they caught up with them at the Ohio River. The other men had overtaken the five Indians while Andrew Poe took on the other two Indians in hand-to-hand combat. Andrew called to his brother to help him and Adam came to his aid. In the end, Adam Poe loaded his rifle more quickly than the Indian and shot Big Foot killing him. The spot where this conflict took place is along Route 2 north of New Cumberland in Hancock County, West Virginia and is marked with a historical marker. In 1803, Adam moved from Pennsylvania to Columbiana County, Ohio. He later settled in Wayne County, Ohio in 1813. He married Elizabeth Matthews Cochran (1758-1844); children: George, Andrew, Sarah & David. He died on September 23, 1838 and Buried at Sixteen Church Cemetery, Massillon, Stark Co., OH. POE, JOHN (Ross County) [39.32420 -82.98610]

Born on September 14, 1750, at Winchester, Frederick Co, VA. Parents : German descent, father Balthasar Poe. He served as a Volunteer VA rifleman, 18 mos under Col Morgan. Regular dragoon under Cols White and Washington. At battle of the Cowpens; battle of Guilford's Court House; at Bluford's defeat at Hanging Rock. Was taken prisoner, after being wounded by sword cut on head and his horse shot under him. Was exchanged and present at Cornwallis' surrender at Yorktown. During serv rode express for Gen Lafayette from Williamsburg to York. Moved from Va with his family and settled near Chillicothe, Ross Co, OH, in 1806. In Jan, 1833, made a profession of religion in Associate Reformed Church under Rev. J. Claybaugh. He married Anna Margaret__; children: Andrew & Jacob. Was almost last soldier of Rev to die in Ross Co. He Died on October 7, 1843, Scioto Twp, Ross Co., OH and buried at place unknown, but he was probably buried in Scioto Township where he lived for many years until his death. A cemetery book published by the Ross County Genealogical Society indicates that most early rural family burial grounds in Scioto Township have disappeared without a trace. In the late 1980's gravestones were erected to honor John Poe and twenty six other Revolutionary War soldiers. The gravestones were placed in lot 226, section 9D, Grandview Cemetery, 300 Brookside Drive, Chillicothe, Ross County, Ohio, 45601 but the soldiers are actually buried elsewhere. A cemetery book indicates that John Poe's gravestone inscription in Grandview Cemetery indicates: John Poe, Pvt., Virginia Continental Line, Revolutionary War, 14 September 1750 - 7 October 1841. The death year of 1841 as reported in this cemetery book is not correct. The Scioto Gazette published John Poe's obituary on 12 October 1843, and it indicated that he died on 7 October 1843.. PORTER, ELIJAH, CAPT. (Medina County) [41.05394 -81.79791]

Born on December 4, 1757 Connecticut. He served in the Revolutionary War and was promoted to Capt. He married Aurelia Smith; children: unknown. In 1821, there occurred, a sad death that caused a gloom to rest upon the entire settlement. Mr. Elijah Porter started in the month of November, from the residence of his son, Shubael Porter, who lived a short distance south of Seville, to go to Medina on business connected with his pension, which he was then receiving from the United States Government, as a discharged Revolutionary soldier. He went on foot to Wilson's Corners, where he obtained a horse from his son-in-law, David Wilson, and with it started through the woods for Medina. Late at night the horse returned without a rider, and some blood was upon the stirrup. Mr. Wilson and the neighbors at once set out in search of him with lanterns and finally found him in what was called the "four miles woods," near the center of Montville, sitting at the foot of a beech tree, so chilled that he could scarcely speak. He had taken off one of his boots, and it was nearly filled with blood. A deep wound was upon his leg, which had the appearance of having been caused by a snag or root. They placed him upon a horse to take him to Medina; but, when they had proceeded but a short distance, he waved his hand as if for them to stop, and immediately expired. With heavy hearts, they then returned home. He was buried near David Wilson's residence (in what is now River Styx Cemetery), and was the first white man buried in Guilford Township.

Born in 1757, Lancaster Co, Pennsylvania. He served as a Private. Name on alphabetical list of soldiers who received pay for service in Revolutionary War in Logan County, OH. He married Elizabeth Stilley (1766-1840); children: Peter, William & Rahel. He Died in 1835, Bellefontaine, OH and buried at the Powell Park Cemetery, Bellefontaine, Logan Co., OH. Cemetery notes and/or description: Powell Park Cemetery is located at the corner of Elm Street and Brown Avenue in Bellefontaine, Logan, Ohio. When the town of Bellefontaine was laid out in 1820, a plot in the northwest corner was reserved to be used as a burial ground. This was in use until 1852 when the new Bellefontaine cemetery was laid out. As stated by Gen. Robert P. Kennedy in his Historical Review of Logan County, published in 1903, "Within its limits are still resting some of the older and earlier citizens who came into the wilderness and did much to make this one of the garden spots of the new State of Ohio; over them grow the grasses of nearly a hundred years." It is known that some of the bodies were moved to other cemeteries. But some the the early citizens are still resting in the cemetery, now known as Powell Park Cemetery or simply as Powell Park. While the graves are still there only two markers remain. In 2008, the cemetery is a roughly block-sized recreation area with a basketball court, playground equipment, trees and grass. The grave markers were reportedly removed in the early 1900s in order to stimulate real estate sales around the park. Ref : Natl No 75454, Vol 76, D. A. R. Lin. For infor Bellefontaine Chap. He married 1)Katherine Wight (1763-1838), 2)Polly Culver; children: Sally, Lydia & William. Simeon Prior, his wife and ten children, were the first white people to settle here. They were from Westfield River, near Northampton, Massachusetts, and landed at Cleveland, from an open boat in July, 1802, the year OH became a state. Cleveland was a hamlet of log cabins. The family traveled on to Hudson, which had been settled two years before and remained there while Simeon went on to find his home site, six miles away, where he built a cabin on Lot 25. The family moved in in August. Simeon purchased 400 acres, and as there were no roads nor conveniences, they were compelled to be self-reliant and resourceful. Meal made from corn was pounded fine on a stump, mixed with water, salted and baked into bread on a split shingle before an open fire. Their clothing was made from flax grown on the farm and spun into cloth. The men hunted game to supply meat. Winter wear was buckskin moccasins, pants and jackets until later years when it was possible to protect sheep from the wolves and woolen clothing could be make. Simeon was also a blacksmith. As more people moved into the area, a two-story hewed-log house was built to use as an accomodation for travelers and a black-smith shop was built and furnished with the tools and stock Simeon had brought with him. The Revolutionary and Indian Wars had propogated a spirit of hostility between the whites and Indians that seemed to know no bounds The Cuyahoga River, Portage Path and Tuscarawas branch of the Muskigum were originally the boundary between the Six Nations and the Western Indians. The Onondagas, Oneidas, Mohawks, and others resided East of the Cuyahoga until the difficulty in 1806. There was an Indian Trail that ran from Fort McIntosh, at the mouth of the Big Beaver, west through Portage Co., crossing the river in Franklin at the Standing Rock, then west to Northampton in Summit Co. where there was an Indian settlement, then on to Sandusky and Detroit. This trail became the hunting ground for Capt. Samuel Brady and his Indian hunters.

In the War of 1812, these Indians joined the British, they lived within the bounds of Northampton Between them and the whites a spirit of hostility existed that needed little to show itself. This continued down to the war of 1812, when the township was for the first time free from Indian alarms.

RALSTON, ARCHIBALD, (Trumbull County) 41.16213 -80.63499

Born in 1742. He Served as a soldier in the Revolutionary War. He Died on June 3, 1810 and Buried at Seceders Corners Cemetery, Seceeders Corners, Liberty Twp., Trumbull Co., OH 44505. One of the first things to engage the attention of the early Liberty settlers was the selection of a lot as the site for a meeting-house and graveyard. Their attention was first directed to a lot in the woods near the southeast corner of Liberty, offered by James Applegate, and now owned by his son Calvin. This was an elevated and beautiful site, and so confidently was it expected that it would be accepted that the remains of some persons were buried there, and the graves are yet to be seen. But at a meeting of the congregation at the house of Alexander McCleery, it was resolved to accept a lot offered by him, which is now occupied by the church and graveyard. The deed for this lot was not made until March 15, 1828, twentv-five years after the purchase was made, and was given by Alexander McCleery to Matthew Mitchell, James Boys, and William Geddes, trustees of the Presbyterian congregation of Liberty, belonging to the Associate Synod of North America. RANSOM, JOHN, (Erie County) [41.44940 -82.72610]

Born in ? He Served as a soldier in the Revolutionary War with Warren Cottle's Co. Vermont Militia. He married Priscilla Jones Mason; children: . He died in 1840 and buried in the Cholera Cemetery, Sandusky, Erie Co., OH.
In 1945, Margaret Cherry, of Monroeville, Ohio, perhaps a descendant, maybe a veterans' volunteer, submitted the application for a military headstone (see photo) for this mysterious John Ransom. His very old military service took place in the years after the start of the American Revolution, in Woodstock, Vermont. From 1780-1781, he answered an alarm when called, much like a National Guard would do today. Soon after, in 1780-1781, a pension number was assigned, which could be given for serious disability, not just age. An old book published in 1909, written by in-laws, covered a family of Ransoms that moved sufficiently early to Woodstock, Vermont. Richard Ransom's family and Joseph Sterling's family moved together, both from old Lyme(in New London County, Conn.). They had already arranged to buy land in what later became South Woodstock, Windsor County, Vermont. The deed paperwork was apparently done before or by 1781 (from p. 334 of The Sterling Genealogy). Perhaps this John Ransom and other Ransoms arrived a bit earlier to do the alarms in 1780, were the reason for moving to that place and not some other?
One hundred and twenty years later, the Sterlings remembered specifically that Richard had brought along his mother, presumedly their blood relative, and that his father had been Matthew Ransom. They listed Richard's eleven children with their birth dates and spouses, including Richard's son, John Ransom, born July 26, 1770. That son John would have been only 10 at the time of the alarm, too young to man an alarm in 1780. The John Ransom needing a headstone had to have been older, a brother or cousin to Richard Ransom, for example, or possibly an uncle or father who came up to Vermont separately, so was not mentioned with Richard's mother.

RANSOM, ROBERT, (Erie County) [41.44940 -82.72610]

Born ? He Served as a Pvt in the Revolutionary War with Connecticut, discharged in 1780. He married Kaziah Portiss; children: . He died in ? and buried in the Cholera Cemetery, Sandusky, Erie Co., OH. There were two Ransoms, barely findable in Erie County history, with the right mix of mystery. Another sailing man, called Joseph Ransom, the father of the above Russell Ransom was, like John Ransom, active in the Revolutionary War era. (He instead fought near Saratoga, NY, at the Battle of the Burgoyne.) One story told is as follows,
"This honored patriot, when venerable in years, came to Erie County, Ohio, to visit his son Russell, and on his return to his home he embarked on a lake vessel at Huron; from that time, no trace of him was every found..."
"...his fate is but a matter of conjecture today, as it was to his anxious family at that time." (page 1774, History of the Western Reserve, Volume 3, 1910, by Harriet Taylor Upton, assisted by Harry Gardner Cutler.)
The last old source (p. 1775) also talked about these Ransoms' Connecticut origins, borrowing material from a Wyllis Ransom. The first to bring his family to America was Robert Ransom, beginning in Plymouth, Massachusetts, "prior to 1654". He thus went to the area populated by Pilgrims, down by Rhode Island and Connecticut, south of the less religiously radical Puritans who were instead closer to Boston. He and his family perhaps arrived a tad later than both sets. (To use some of the jargon of the era, the Pilgrims were "separatists", while the Puritans were merely "nonconformists". The area had lots of shipping activity, so there were reasons for less religious people to be there, too, many called "adventurers", there to follow varied business ventures.)
The source said his children included "Mathew". Matthew fathered a Joseph, apparently born in Conn., according to other sources, so they had moved there before his birth. (Beware; there may be a generation missing?) That Joseph fathered the Revolutionary War Joseph, the one who was lost on ship, after leaving the port at Huron (now Erie County. RECTOR, CHARLES (Miami County, IN) []

Born on March 26, 1761 in Fauquier County, Virginia. He was drafted into the service of the United States by Capt. Tapley in Hampshire co., Va. in the spring of 1781, as a private; and within the space of twenty days was delivered to Capt. Teverbaugh and was mustered into service at Fort Pleasant on the South Branch of the Potomac. Shortly thereafter he was sent to Col. Cresap who resided in the County of Hampshire, state of Va. near Old Town near the mouth of the south branch of the Potomac, "at which place he remained and from that time acted as orderly sergeant under the said Col. Cresap until the final close of the war, but he does not know whether or not he was really an officer or merely a private acting in the capacity of orderly Sergeant for said Col. Cresap. He said he was in no bat- tles and marched through no counties except those he had named, but he re- mained in the service, a period of more than two years." (Note: The D.A.R. Patriot Index credits him with service as Orderly Sergeant from Virginia), His duties as orderly sergeant were to carry orders by night and by day to twenty-two or twenty-three Captains from Col. Michael Cresap. He married 1) Sarah Chapman, 2) Mrs Catherine Haynes Marshall; Children: Nancy, Margaret, Samuel, William, Fanny, Conway, Sarah, Benjamin, Winnifred, Elizabeth, Charlotte, Benj, Ross, Elias and Caroline. After the war he lived near Pittsburgh, Penna. for a time and from there migrated to Mason County, Kentucky; and from there to Champaign County, Ohio (now Clark). His last move was to Miami County, Indiana.
Appended to his widow's application for a pension is the following af- fidavit: Charles Rector and Catherine Marshall was married by the Rev. William Sutton on May 20th 1824. Charles Rector, son of Daniel Rector departed this life January 1st in the year of our Lord 1852 aged 91 years, 9 months and 27 days.
Land Entries in the name of Charles Rector as recorded in the books of the Land Office (now the Bureau of Land Management) are as follows: (1) Part of Section 5 west of Mad River Town 4 Range 10, entered 1804 Dec 3180 A. at $2 per A. But a correction showed there was a surplus of 72 A., making a total of 152 A. (2) In S 11 Town 4 Range 10, 640 A. at $2 per A. Date: 1804 Aug 16 (3) East half of Section 12 Town 4 Range 10, 329 A. Date: 1804 12/31. This would make a total of 1121 A. entered as early as 1804 in Clark and Cham- paign Counties. References: Pension Record No. R 8637; D.A.R. REED, JAMES, JR., (Mahoning Co.) [41.02428 -80.75363]

Born in 1764 to father James Reed (1736-1806). He served as a Pvt with PA in the Revolutionary War 5th Co. 6th Troop Dragoons, 9th Regt. Militia. He married Elizabeth Peacock or Calloway (1762-1860); children: Mary, Rachel, Jemima, James, Eleanor, John, Anna, Rosanna, Hiram & Joshua.
History of Trumbull and Mahoning County, 1882, Vol II p. 14 "James Reed settled in the western part of the township in 1805, moving from Ellsworth. After his settlement his father, also named James came out and lived with him. He died here at the age of about seventy, and was the fifth person buried in the center graveyard. In the early days of Canfield there were families by the name of Reed. Phineas located on east Street, James Reed on Turner street and James Reed on west street. These families were in no way, so far as we know, related. I shall avail myself in part of what I shall say concerning Mr. Reed, to information obtained from his daughter Rachel. I called upon her some days ago and had a pleasant interview. She greeted me cordially, saying she "was glad to meet one she knew something about." I have known her nearly 70 years. She makes her home with Prior Tanner, one of her grandsons and a great-grandson of Tryal Tanner, an early and prominent settler. Prior and his wife, Laura, (a daughter of 'Squire Manchester), reside on the old homestead owned by the family for nearly 100 years. Seventy-eight years ago, or in 1819, Rachel married James Turner, and now lacks but a few weeks of being 96 years old. In the days of her prime she was a tall, good sized and well proportioned woman, with every mark of intelligence, good common sense and self-reliance. As I expected, I found the old lady showing evidence that the sands of life were slowly ebbing away, and the years of her long life must soon come to a close. She sat in a rocking chair holding in her hand a stout cane, from which I inferred she was able, with its aid, to walk about the room and to her bed. She complained that within the last year or two her memory had greatly failed. It was with some difficulty she was able to recall names. Her hearing is fairly good, and she conversed with animation and connectedly. As she rehearsed some of her past history, with its hardships, trials and many scenes of sorrow, tears made their way down the furrows that many years have made in a face that once was radiant and happy. Long years ago her husband was taken away and one by one all her children have followed, to be laid by his side. A new world to her has sprung up around her in which she is a stranger. Generations have come and passed away and she still lives among us, like a shock of wheat left alone in the field by the reapers. Her life has been a long span, reaching from the beginning to very nigh the close of this century. Roster of Revolutionary War soldiers buried in Ohio. Wilbur R. Branthoover, compiler. REED, PHINEAS, (Mahoning County) [41.02428 -80.75363]

Born ? Served as a Pvt from Dutchess Co New York 6th Regt "NY Men of the Rev," p 250. He also had land bounty rights. Died ? Buried in Canfield Village Cemetery Mahoning Co., OH. His Name is among 35 listed on a plaque "Veterans Interred in Canfield City and Township Cemeteries, Mahoning County, Ohio". Came to Ohio in 1709 and located in Canfield. Mahoning Dispatch, Fri, 19 Feb 1897 - Article No. 5 by Dr. Jackson Truesdale Excerpt regarding Canfield's earliest settlers:
"We have already noted that in the fall of 1798 the surveying party of which Nathan Moore was chief surveyor returned to Connecticut. In the spring of 1799 he returned to further prosecute the work begun. With him came some of the men that formed the party the preceding summer. The spring and fall of 1799 added a large relative addition to the colony of one family, and two young men that constituted the population the preceding winter. Three families, and possibly four, came to Canfield as settlers. They were Phineas Reed, Eleazor Gilson, Joshua Hollister and probably Rapheal Hulbert, all having families, and all from Connecticut, unless, perhaps the latter, who may have come in the spring of 1800 from Pennsylvania, and if so was the first of many more that came from that state soon afterwards. Aside from these families there were a few unmarried men. According to a statement made by a Mrs. Hale, who was a daughter of Nathan Moore, the surveyor, we find the names of unmarried residents of Canfield in 1799 of "Azariah Wetmore, Joseph Pangborn, Wilder Page, Nathaniel Gridly, one by the name of Mervin or Mewin and perhaps one or two others." Some of these last named were of the surveying party of '99, headed by Nathan Moore. We are told that Judson Canfield spent part of the summer in Canfield overseeing his interests in the west. Phineas Reed settled about three-fourths of a mile east of the center, on the south side. Joshua Hollister, who came with the Gilson family, located about two miles from the center on the north side of East street, and Mr. Gilson on the same street, south side, one and a half miles from the center. Up to this time all of the settlers except Rapheal Hulbert selected East street for their homes, thereby affording an opportunity for neighborly fellowship. Among the arrivals for this year may be noticed the names who have left no trace among us as our population is now made up".

Born on September 20, 1743 in St. Beorges Parish, Maryland to John and Ruth Riley. He served with the Washington County, Pennsylvania, Militia, was a sergeant in Captain William Scott's Company of Militia of the 4th Battalion, in Washington County, Pennsylvania. He married Hannah __ (1744-1839) in 1766; children: Ruth b. 1766, John

b. 1767, Abigail b. 1773, William b. 1775, Moses b. 1783 and Thomas b. 1785. Francis Riley was born in St. Georges Parish, Maryland. He was the oldest child of John and Ruth Riley. The family originated in County Caven, Ireland. They migrated to Western Pennsylvania where Francis served in the Washington County Militia. By 1791 they had crossed the Ohio River and were living in what is today Wells Township, Jefferson County, Ohio. Originally the stream was called Riley's Run but is today called Riddles Run.
This time prior to the War of 1812 settlement of now counties to the west of the Ohio River had increased rather rapidly. Indian raids on the settlers had increased sharply, too. A group of men from Fort Henry were hunting in what is now Harrison County. James Boggs was killed when Indians attack their night camp sight on 28 January 1791, shortly before the Riley Massacre. Abigail, William Thomas and Claudia (Ruth's daughter with John Schemmerhorn were killed; Ruth was captured Moses and young John Riley escaped with the parents. Several accounts of the massacre have been written. The date is often given in 1784 with both Hannah and Francis being killed. Many pieces of factual information prove the early date and their massacre deaths incorrect. They are buried on this farm south of Brilliant, OH about 4 miles west of Mingo Junction, OH. Francis' death in 1798 at the age of 55 years and Hanah much later in 1839; buried at Riley farm on Riddle's Run south of Brilliant, Ohio, about four miles west of Mingo Junction, Ohio. ROBBINS, JASON, (Cuyahoga Co.) [41.4056 -81.4847]

Born in 1762 Pittsfield, Mass. He served as a Pvt Mass Militia, Capt Wm Ford's Company, Col John Brown's Regt of Berkshire Co, 1777-1780. In August of 1820 two families "well supplied with teams, household furniture, and especially children, might have been seen making their tedious way on rough roads from Newburgh through Independence to Hudson in the present County of Summit, and thence northeast to Aurora in what is now Portage County, where they made a temporary stop." Leaving their families there, the heads of these two families began a thorough examination of the surrounding territory, searching for desirable unoccupied land. After a long search they decided to locate on the west part of the Williams and Ellsworth tract, which comprised the southern part of township 6, range 10, and was then called Milan, but later became the civil Township of Solon. These men were Cant. Jason Robbins and Samuel Bull, both originally from Wethersfield, Hartford County, Connecticut. They were both along in years, Mr. Bull was forty five and Captain Robbins fifty eight. Not too old to be pioneers, they built log cabins, did some clearing and in November of that year of 1820, moved their families into their new homes. These were the first settlers in the township, and while there were only two families, there were sixteen children in each, so that a colony of sixteen constituted the first settlers. ROBINSON, JAMES, (Union Co.) [40.15133 -83.38223]

Born September 17, 1774 York Co., Pennsylvania to parents James (1741-1815) and Sarah Dixon (1743-1818) Robinson. He served in the Revolutionary War. James Robinson was one of the early settlers in what became Union County. Samuel and James Robinson, the sons of James Robinson, were born and raised on their father's farm of several hundred acres, in York County, Penn., a few miles distant from the Susquehanna. James had acquired the cooper trade, and Samuel was equally proficient as a carpenter. They possessed the pioneer element strongly, in their natures, and when young men came West to seek their fortunes. They reached Tennessee, and there met Lucas Sullivant, a surveyor, who wished them to join his surveying party. With a view to selecting a good location for their future homes, they entered his employ--James as a chain carrier and Samuel as a marker--and came to Ohio. The party consisted of five men, the sole business of one of them being to provide the company with game. For six weeks they were busily at work, and during the time they saw no white men. The Robinson boys selected the Samuel Robinson survey of 600 acres, No. 2,977, located in the southeastern part of Darby, and early in the spring of 1800, cleared a small piece of land and planted it in corn. During their stay, they boarded with Joshua Ewing. In the spring of 1805, James and his family, Samuel and another brother, Thomas, again bade adieu to Pennsylvania and started on their pioneer journey to Darby Township. Samuel and James had divided between them the survey they had purchased, James taking the northwestern half. He sold this to two brothers, Thomas and John and, and purchased from Lucas Sulivant 330 acres adjoining it on the northwest, the fractions of Surveys 3,482, 3,682 and 3,881. Upon his arrival, James built a cabin on this new land. He had been a man of unusual activity and energy, and was an earnest member of the Presbyterian Church. He married Jane Morrison; children: (a family of eight children survived him) Anna, Sarah, William, Eleanor, James, Jane, Samuel & Nancy. He died on September 20, 1823 and Buried at Mitchell Cemetery, Darby Township, Union Co., OH. GM Robinson family. Ref : Ethel Robinson Helser, Unionville, OH. Fur infor Hannah Emerson Dustin Chap.

ROBINSON, WILLIAM, MAJ., (Coshocton County) [40.18080 -81.90080]

Born on April 18, 1743, Clarksburg, Virginia to parents James William (1704-1778) and Mary McKinney (1712-1781) Robinson. He Served as Adjutant of 5th and 9th VA Regt under Col O Towles. As a merchant, provider of material assistance to the Patriot troops during the American Revolution. First merchant west of the Allegheny Mountains and the first to introduce the sale of coffee in that section of Virginia. He Married Margaret See; children: James. During Lord Dunmore's War, which began with the murder of Chief Logan's family, and which ended Nov 1774, the colonists of Virginia fought against Indians backed by the British, and Maj. Robinson experienced a unique and historic adventure. 1774: William and his family had been living in a fort for protection from Indian attacks. With the other men, William served in the fort militia unit. He may have earned the commission as major through training provided by his father who served in the Virginia Militia. One day, William and two friends were working with the flax crop outside the fort's walls. Captain John Logan, Chief of the Mingo Native American nation, and his warriors attacked them as they worked in the flax field near his home by the Monongahela River. The major was forced to run the gauntlet, then tied up three times to be burned at the stake but was removed each time as debate raged on about his merit. He was verbally defended by the Chief himself against a group of hostile chiefs. He was spared when Chief Logan, who had been leading a war of vengeance against the settlers, adopted him. While with the Indians, Maj. Robinson traveled through the beautiful Muskingum River valley of Ohio. On one occasion, he recorded a letter for the Chief to the man he thought, in error, had killed his family. The message was left in the cabin of a pioneer family Logan killed. The message has been compared often to the famous speech Chief Logan delivered at the end of Dunmore's War. After about four months with Logan, Maj. Robinson escaped to return to his family in Clarksburg, Virginia (now West Virginia). It is interesting to note that his wife, Margaret See, had been a hostage of the Shawnee Indians after her first husband, father, and many others were killed in the Muddy Creek Massacre of July 16, 1763. In its aftermath, Margaret's mother and siblings were among the captives made to travel to the village of Chief Cornstalk and kept there until a hostage exchange was arranged. When William and Margaret moved to Ohio, Margaret's mother was with them, and a large group of family and friends accompanied or followed them. This included some of their married children with their spouses, children, and in-laws. Some of these pioneers are buried in the cemetery beside William, while others are interred in Bethany ME Cemetery, Robinson Cemetery, and possibly other locations. Prior to the move to Ohio, William had also served as Mayor of Clarksburg and as the third Sheriff of Harris County, VA (WV).

ROLL, ABRAHAM (Hamilton County) [39.2806626 -84.4855372]

Born in Morris County,New Jersey on August 11, 1759. He was a Private in Captain Peter Layton's Company, Colonel Sylvanus Seely's Battalion Morris County, New Jersey Militia. He married Prudence Vance in 1783. In 1805 he moved to a farm in Burlington, Springfield Township, Hamilton County, Ohio. Their children were Samuel Vance, Sarah, Wickham, Elizabeth, Rachel, John, Isaac and Martha. He was one of the founders of Christian New Light Church, Mt. Healthy, Hamilton County. He died before December 12, 1827 and buried in Springfield Presbyterian Cemetery (old St. Mary's Presbyterian) at NW corner of Springfield Pike and Cameron Rd. Hamilton County, OH.

Note: In Butler County, Ohio, Mathias Roll and in Hamilton County, Ohio, Abraham

Roll each stated they were raised from boyhood in the same neighborhood of Morris County, New Jersey, with John Boltenhouse. Both Mathias and Abraham Roll knew that John served in the Revolutionary War on the Continental Establishment two years after his enlistment because they were in the service at this time. They lost track of him when his regiment was sent southward but both were certain that he did not return to his native state until after the conclusion of peace in 1783.

Originally thought to have been buried in Roll Cemetery, then thought to have been reburied in Wesleyan Cemetery at Colerain Ave. at Hoffner St with other Roll's. His name was placed on a 20" X 30" Granite memorial stone next to the GAR monument at Wesleyan Cemetery, 4100 Colerain Avenue, Cincinnati, Ohio 45223-2684. Roll's were buried there in 1903, but apparently not Abraham who was found in 2017 to have been buried at Old St. Mary's Cemetery in Springdale, OH. Although no stone has been found there with his name on it, his burial is listed on their records.

He Married Lydia Munson (br 1768, d 1855). He Died on Nov 27, 1813, Granville, OH. Buried at Old Colony Cemetery, South Main St.& West Maple, Granville, OH 43023, plot #840. Cemetery Notes: Established in 1805, the Old Colony Burying Ground on South Main Street in Granville contains over one thousand burials. Most of the tombstones were in decent shape when we visited, but some were weathered or broken. A sign in the cemetery stated that the cemetery was being restored. There are veterans from the Revolutionary War, the War of 1812, and the Civil War buried in the cemetery. Although the first recorded burials occurred in 1806, the oldest tombstone we could find dated to 1813. We came across a couple of recognizable names in the cemetery. Timothy Rose was the first Deacon in the church and a main player in establishing Granville. There was a flag on his grave indicating he was a veteran, but we are unsure in which war he served. Rose died on November 27, 1813, at 51 years of age. GM by Granville Chap in 1901. Was agent to this Co for the Licking Land Company ; was an influential citizen. Pens allowed. ROSS, ALEXANDER (Warren County) [39.48950 -84.31778]

(1754-1809) Served in the Philadelphia Militia. "My mother Mary Ross Apgar and her sister Janet Ross Johnson did extensive research on the Ross family. Alexander Ross is our stopping point on that side of the family. What we are lacking for him is his place of birth (country of Origin), his parents, immigration date to the US. We know he traveled to Brownsville (Redstone) in Pa, then moved with his in-laws to Franklin in Warren County . He served in the Rev War, at Battle of Brandywine, Paoli (captured), and Whiskey Rebellion. My mother, Mary Ross Apgar visited the Warren County Courthouse and examined their records in person. It was from there that she discovered Alexander Ross (1755-1809) and his wife, Nancy Ann Ross, were buried in Dicks Creek Cemetery. There is no gravestone, as it may have been destroyed or removed over the years. We also have references from the Kidner family (an in law from one of Alexander's children) that he was buried there." ROSS, TAFF (Tuscarawas County [40.639586 -81.455061]

Birth date and place are unknown. He served as a Private in the 13th Virginia Regiment Who was listed as killed at Fort Laurens 7 November 1778 in general reports following the day of death. He may have been killed on November 6, 1778. He was not buried in the mass grave, but rather in one of the other graves at the fort. He was in Capt. Robert Beall's Company of the 13th Virginia commanded by Col. John Gibson. The Americans completed the construction of Fort Laurens—named after Henry Laurens, president of the Continental Congress—in early December 1778 under the command of General Lachlan McIntosh. The fort, built on the west bank of the Tuscarawas River was to serve three purposes. First, the Americans hoped to use Fort Laurens as a base to attack the British garrison located at Detroit. Second, it would hopefully deter American Indians loyal to the British from conducting raids against American settlers in eastern Ohio and western Pennsylvania. And finally, by offering protection to the neutral Christian Delaware's, the Americans might convince them to for sake their neutrality and join the patriots' cause.
In total, 21 soldiers lost their lives at Fort Laurens after a handful of British soldiers and a couple hundred Wyandot, Mingo, Munsee, and Delaware warriors laid siege to the fort before it was abandoned in 1779. Later, part of the fort was demolished during the building of the Ohio and Erie Canal. Currently none of the original fort remains above ground, but the outline of the fort is visible. ROUSH, GEORGE (Meigs County) [38.96606 -81.91290]

Born on July ,1761 in Shenandoah Co., VA to Parents John Adam (1711-1786) & (Johannes Rausch) and Susannah Sehler (1713-1796) Roush. He served with VA in the Revolutionary War and was at Yorktown, Enlisting in fall of 1779 as Private in Captain John Roush's Company raised for Shenandoah County, (VA) militia; also served as Private in Captain Pugh's co. and enlisted again in 1781 for another tour of several months He married 1) Catherine Zirkle (1763-_), 2) Catherine Wolfe (1771-1845) in 1815; children: Michael b. 1783, Magdalena, John, Daniel b. 1787, Lewis, Catherine, Samuel b. 1795, Susannah, Jacob, Mary b. 1801 & Jonas b. 1803. George seems always to have been most closely associated with his older brother, John. John was his Captain during the Revolutionary War. When the Roush brothers took a large tract of land in Mason County, Ohio, George came first with his brother, Captain John, in whose name the purchase was made. He must have preceded his family on his first trip to the Ohio Valley as records show him to have come here in 1798, and birth and baptismal records show that his son Jacob was born and baptized in Shenandoah County, 1799. In 1807 he moved to Sutton Township, Meigs County, Ohio, where he purchased a tract of land from Edward W Tupper. It was that level tract that is now just west of the little town of Dorcas near Racine, known as the DeWolf farm. On this tract of land he lived until his death. He died on May 31, 1845 and buried at Weldon Cemetery, 604 S. Broadway Street, Racine, Meigs Co., OH 45771. Pension File# S.8579; and, NSSAR Nat'l. No.182557 approved Feb 10, 2012. RUPERT, ADAM, (Columbiana County) [40.87140 -80.57330]

Born on May 8, 1758 in Cumberland, York Co., Pennsylvania. He served as a Pvt with PA in the Revolutionary War. He married Margaret Goetz; children: Catherine, Jacob, Elizabeth, Benjamin, Mary & Adam. He Died on April 22, 1840 and Buried at Unity Brick Church Cemetery, Plot Old Section, 1993 Waterford Road, East Palestine, Columbiana Co., OH 44413. Adam Rupert as told, came to Columbiana Ohio with three other brothers, Martin, John, and Michael. They were born in Pensylvania, possibly York County. He built log cabin shown presently located on Metz Road. 1870 Map Unity Range 1 Twp 8 Section 17 shows Rupert property owned by Rebecca Snook Rupert (widow of son Jacob)and J. Rupert (son) possibly living in log home on 33 1/2 acres. Some notes from Don Rupert (1913-2009): Recent newspaper clipping in Columbiana paper about Ruperts, Rummells and Woods states they all helped pioneer Columbiana County. The article mentions that Adam Rupert came to America with his three older brothers in 1764. He served in the Revolutionary war and moved to Unity Township in 1800 at the age of 44. The article states Rupert was the first to go to the office in Steubenville for land in Unity Township. He bought two iron stoves which heated the home he built, a two story log cabin with a loft, entireley. There was no fireplace in the home that still stands on Metz Road. He married Elizabeth Goetz. Rupert is buried behind the Unity Brick Church, where his decendents errected a monument to him in the 1920's. According to church records, the first meeting of that church were actually held in Rupert's home in 1802. Rupert and his son Jacob, were both important in the church's history. See more information from article under Son Jacob and son Benjamin. Adam Rupert bought sec 17 in Unity twp in 1800. He built his house and barn on ground adjacent to and elevated above a flood plain which has become a swamp since Beaver Lake was built in the 1981-20 period. Very likely it was not forested when Adam bought and was a great benefit to him as a source of good pasture and hay for his livestock. Three springs watered the area. From this flood plain water flows north in to the Mahoning River drainage system and south into the Little Beaver Run system. Soil types in area include much Wooster soil which is considered the best in the area. Wooster soil was heavily forested with massive big oak, poplar , ash and chestnut, some hickory, walnut and on thinner soils beech and sugar maple. Adam was one of the founding fathers of the Reformed church known variously as the Forney Church. (Henry Forney supplied the land. The Reformed Church, Salem Church, Unity Brick Church and perhaps more. It was located a little over 1 mile east of Adams home on sec. 10 of Unity twp. The original log church was replaced with a substantial brick church in 1828-29 and that one in 1875 which, with additions still stands.. Both a Luthern and a Reformed congregation share the church unit about 1840. End DR notes.

RUSSELL, JACOB, (Cuyahoga County) [41.46560 -81.56560]

Born in 1746. He served as a Pvt, 8th Co Continental Regt, Connecticut. He married Ester Dunham; children: Elijah, Ester, Jerusha, Return, Elisha, Samuel, Content, Roxanna, Obedience, Rodney & Ralph. He Died in 1821 and Buried at Shaker Heights Cemetery moved to the Warrensville West Cemetery, Lee Road, Shaker Heights, Cuyahoga Co., OH. GM Western Reserve Chap.

On the north side of South Park Boulevard, just east of Lee Road, there is a solitary grave the final resting place of an American Revolutionary War soldier Jacob Russell. Next to the grave is a large stone with a bronze plaque commemorating Russell's life. The plaque, placed there in 1926 by the Daughters of the American Revolution (DAR), is the oldest historic marker in Shaker Heights, Ohio.

Jacob Russell was born in Connecticut in 1746. In May 1775, just weeks after the battles of Lexington and Concord, twenty-nine year old Jacob, who was married and had two young children at the time, enlisted in the 8th Company of the Connecticut Continentals. He served in this unit for five months and was discharged in October 1775. Little else is known of his Revolutionary War military service.

But the story of Jacob Russell did not end when his military service came to an end. Sometime around 1800, Jacob, his wife Esther, and their by then ten children moved west from Windsor, Connecticut to Jefferson County, New York, located on the eastern shores of Lake Ontario. A little over a decade later, the family moved west again, settling in northeast Ohio in 1813. It was a dangerous trek in that year, as the United States was at war with Great Britain, and northeast Ohio was in the middle of the war's western front.

The Russell family survived the War of 1812, and were among the earliest permanent settlers of Warrensville Township. Among their neighbors was Daniel Warren for whom the township was later named. The 1820 federal census found the Russell family living in Warrensville Township, constituting 26 of the 133 persons counted in the census--almost 20 percent of the township population.

In 1821, at age 75, Jacob Russell died. It was said that his son Ralph was so distraught over the death of his father that he turned to religion for solace and became a member of the United Society of Believers in Christ's Second Appearance, better known as the Shakers. Following his conversion, Ralph Russell founded the Shaker North Union Colony on Russell family farmlands in what is now the City of Shaker Heights.

The youngest son of Jacob Russell was Rodney, who was born in Windsor, Connecticut, May 15, 1796. In 1870 he was the only surviving male member of the Russell family at North Union. He was a single man, and owned a farm a little distance south from the settlement, which he exchanged for land lying north and adjoining land owned by the community. He entered the society with his four brothers and consecrated his property, his time and talents and all he possessed to build up and support his religious faith. To that cause he devoted a long and useful life and blessed many an orphan and poor widow, who had been brought into the community and permitted to partake of the fruits of his labor. By occupation he was a farmer and shoemaker. He died at North Union, September 3, 1880, aged 84 years, 3 months and 7 days. Born in 1762. Robert Rutherford served for a period of eighteen months as a Private in Col. Buford's Regiment in the Virginia line. He Married _____ (1758-_); children: ?

He applied for a pension July 2, 1818, before Asst. Judge Alexander McBeth of Urbana Township, Champaign Co., Ohio. He stated he was in reduced circumstances, and that he did faithfully serve as a private soldier 18 months. He enlisted in Shenandoah Co., Va., in October, 1780, and marched under the command of Capt. Andrew Wallace through North and South Carolina, attached to the 8th Regt. commanded by Col. Buford in the Va. line. He served in this company until Capt. Wallace was killed in the Battle of Gilford in N. Carolina. He was then ordered by Major Mazard to drive a baggage wagon, and remained in this service driving said team until the end of the War. Shortly before the expiration of the War he was ordered by Major Mazard to drive the baggage belonging to the Major to Mazard's residence in Leaas Town in the State of Va., then granted a short furlough to go home, but before his furlough was over, the War ended. He did not return to receive his discharge, that he gave his furlough to one Zaca De- lena in order to recover pay for his services. He stated he is a resident of German Twp., Clark County, Ohio, and is 56 years of age and from his present indigent circumstances in life needs the attendance of his country for support. The pension was granted 1819 and discontinued in 1822. A schedule of all his property, personal and real together with all incomes to be inscribed on the pension list roll of the Ohio Agency on April 23, 1819, was as follows: No land, 3 head of horses, 5 cows, 4 yearlings, 5 two year old cattle, 30 head of hogs, 150 bushels of salt. Debts were $96.00 to Christian Keezer, $70.00 to M. Bostick, $45.00 to L. Short, and $4.00 to F. Buhring. In 1825 the pension was restored at which time he was 63 years old, his wife 67 years and living in Cabell Co., Va. He died after 1825 and burial is unknown in Clark County, OH. Skene's parents died when he was young, he was sent to live with a Mr. Bull, who married one of his mother's sisters. He enlisted January 23, 1780 from North Milford, Connecticut. He dropped his last name because of his age. The traditional explanation of the dropping of his surname when he enlisted is that he hoped by so doing to prevent his uncle discovering his whereabouts and securing his discharge on account of his being under the prescribed age, the inference being that his uncle was a Tory.

"Even before the township was organized in 1811, the pioneers felt the need for schooling for their children. In 1804-1805 the first sessions were held in a rather unique place that was noisy but warm. S. D. Sackett's blacksmith shop located between Warner's Hollow and present day Route 322 served as the first schoolroom for a year."

SEBRING, FULKARD, (Delaware County) [40.1508963 -82.8662893]

Born in 1745 in New Brunswick, NJ to parents Johannes (John) Seabring (1702-73) and Petronella Auten. Served as a Pvt in Bucks Co, Pa Mil. He married Sophia Leesman; children: Obadiah b. 1778, John b. 1769, Francis b. 1787 and Josiah b. 1792. Fulkard Sebring and his descendants lived, generation after generation, along the banks of Big Walnut Creek (also called the Gehenna or Big Belly) near the boundary line between Delaware and Franklin Counties, on land that is now under water. In the 1950's Hoover Dam was constructed astride the Big Walnut to form Hoover Reservoir, the water supply for Columbus. Not only did pioneers need the water; they were absolutely dependent upon the vegetation and game it sustained. Fishing and hunting was more than recreation to the pioneers, it was necessary for survival. The creek provided water power for sawmills and gristmills. The stream received its name from the fact its banks and bottoms were covered with a dense growth of black walnut trees, which have long since disappeared .... Thousands of rails have been split, and dugout canoes were made from logs. The doors, floors, and often even walls of the cabins were made from this wood. In the early settlement, the waters were alive with fish and game of every description was found it the dense forest that lined its banks. He died 1822 in Genoa Township, Delaware County, and was buried in an unmarked grave in Red Bank Cemetery. Nearly every grave in the cemetery traces their lineage to Fulkard. Years later, his remains were accidently uncovered while a grave was being dug for his grandson, George Washington Sebring who lived 1819 to 1908. Fulkard's remains were attired in his soldier's uniform. The grave was later marked by the Delaware County
